YOUNG AMERICA DOES ITS BIT, TOO

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—the use of stimulants and nicotine—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become overtaxed and fail to filter excess acids and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, attacks of nervous irritability, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, all when the kidneys are disturbed. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are scanty passages, smarting of too frequent urination.

DOAN'S PILLS

CONGRATULATIONS to the Newspapers of America

ONCE more the free press of America has shown its ability to aid in overcoming the shortage of an essential war material.

This country faced an acute shortage of pulpwood. We users of pulpwood, faced with increasing wartime demands for our products, realized the disastrous effect on our war and home front economics if the shortage of our raw materials continued. This problem, so vast in scope, so threatening in nature, had to be brought to the attention of every man, woman and child in pulpwood-producing areas. The job had to be done quickly if the downward trend of production was to be reversed in time.

To help turn the tide, the Newspapers of America have responded as only the Free Press of a Free People could. They have given their time, effort and space to make people understand how much we needed pulpwood—and why.

This whole campaign is an inspiring example of initiative and imagination. It is beginning to work, and we in this industry are glad to acknowledge the help it has been to us in meeting the nation's need for pulpwood products. We are happy to carry on with the newspapers, and to do everything we can to make their drive a success.

M. H. S. BAND WILL SPONSOR "CHINA," AT ALPINE THEATRE NEXT WEEK

Boosters of the Marlinton High School Band, will be given an opportunity to lend tangible support to that organization when it sponsors the motion picture "China," starring the favorites, Alan Ladd and Loretta Young, next Wednesday and Thursday, November 24 and 25, at the Alpine Theatre in Marlinton. This organization, which is growing all the while, in both size and experience, is doing as much as any group to make a real contribution to the community spirit here, and deserves the full support of everyone. Their participation in the recent Armistice Day celebration for the dedication of the Pocahontas County Honor Roll, which was carried out in bleak cold weather, won the admiration and plaudits of the large crowd which attended. The Band is under the direction of Miss Edith May. —Photograph from 1943 M. H. S. annual.

State Women's Clubs Plan "Buy a Bomber" Campaign

The West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs will open its "Buy a Bomber" campaign on November 20, Miss Mary Ella MacDonald, Martinsburg, chairman of the war bond and stamp committee for the federation, has announced. Campaign has the approval of the U. S. Treasury Department and the West Virginia War Finance Committee.

The campaign will be concluded December 31, Miss WacDonald said. Objective is to buy one heavy bomber at a cost of $300,000, to be named the "West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs" and will be presented as West Virginia's quota to the General Federation by Mrs. J. Maurice Bodkin, Parkersburg, the state president.

Announcement of the opening of the "bomber" drive this Saturday was accompanied by a statement from Mrs. Maude B. Hatfield, Iaeger, chairman of the federations War Department, asking all senior and junior clubs to give full cooperation to the campaign.

LOBELIA NEWS

We are having real winter weather here now.

Farmers here are taking advantage of the brisk weather, and a large number of nice hogs were butchered recently.

Robert Williams has been very ill at his home with a bealed jaw caused by an infected tooth.

Tommie Barcroft returned last Monday from Baltimore. He was accompanied there by his wife, who will undergo an operation following a few days' rest. Her sister, Mrs. Fred Hill, will stay with Mrs. Barcroft until after the operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hodges of Forrest Hill, Md., are visiting friends and relatives here. Ernest enters the armed service November 26.

Gertrude Kinnison and little Ruby Lynn Hodges spent Saturday with Mary Ann Hollandsworth.

Mrs. Dick Ervine was called to Cleveland, O., last Thursday by the illness of her husband, who is employed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Kimbeon were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Vaughn last Wednesday.

The baby of the Clark Yeagers is ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sizemore and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Morrison were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Crockett Rose on Sunday.

Samuel Dean who has been working at Meadville, Pa., for several months is home for two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dean.

Algernon Rider left Saturday for Charleston to spend the week-end with his sisters, Miss Helen Ryder and Mrs. Harvey Warwick.

Thirteen members of the Lobelia Farm Women's Club attended the county Achievement Day at Marlinton Saturday. We wish sincere good luck to the new president, Mrs. E. L. Cutlip, who was president of the Lobelia club for several years. We know that she will do her best.

Give him a Crisp WAR BOND for a CHRISTMAS present to be remembered. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

He's working late at the Ration Board

There's one thing that's typically American. That's the family supper table, with dad serving and mom seeing that everyone gets enough to eat. Another thing that's typically American is the ability to pitch in when there's a job to be done.

And that's what Jim's doing!

He's putting in long hours at the local War Price and Rationing Board after he leaves his own job. It's late, he's tired, he's working without pay. Because he wants to do his bit to help everyone get a fair share of food and fuel and other rationed commodities. Because he figures he owes it to the boy next door (he's in uniform) and to his friends and neighbors.

Jim's a typical American. He doesn't get much applause. But he has one consolation — he's doing what he can to help his country. And Jim's neighborhood of his country, he — gives him your cooperation. Be patient. Make it easier for him. That's the least you can do.

HOW TO CURE A STICKY WAFFLE IRON

A waffle generally sticks because of improper preheating or insufficient shortening in the batter. When this happens, remove particles left on grid with wire brush. Then cover the grids with a thin film of salad oil or melted unsalted fat. Let grids heat until they smoke, pour batter and discard first waffle.

1 Heat iron to right temperature before pouring batter.

2 Wipe grids lightly with soft cloth or paper towel after each use. Don't wash grids.

3 Cool iron with lid up—never while closed or grids will smother.

See Here, Private Hargrove!

by Marion Hargrove

W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, former feature editor of a North Carolina newspaper, has been inducted into the army and is near the end of his basic training at Fort Bragg. He has been classified as a cook and in addition his failure to master some of the fundamentals of army life have resulted in considerable extra KP duty. Thus he is thoroughly familiar with the Company kitchen and its workings. He has also learned the finer points of "goldbricking." He is editor of a section of the camp paper. As we pick up the story, Hargrove is entertaining "the Redhead" at dinner. She is having trouble getting the waiter to bring her a glass of water and Hargrove speaks:

CHAPTER XV

"Ahem," I said. He stopped humming a little tune with which he had engaged himself, and he looked at me with kindly curiosity. "Ahem," I repeated. "Are you the waiter with the water for my daughter?"

He turned on a tight, polite little smile. "The water, monsieur, will be forthcoming. I have sent my friend Charles for the water."

The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor this afternoon came as stunning news to the men at Fort Bragg. There had been a rumor, one day a couple of months ago, that Germany had declared war on the United States to beat us to the draw, and since it was merely a rumor, there was no confirmation or denial over the radio all day long. That supposed news back then had been taken with a philosophic shrug and the thought, "Well, it's what we've been expecting."

This today caused a different war feeling. It was not what we had been expecting. To the soldiers here, whose only attention to the newspapers is a quick glance at the headlines, it was startling and dreadful.

The men who heard the news announcement over the radio this afternoon at the Service Club were, for the most part, new to the Army, with less than a month of training behind them. Their first feeling of outrage gave way to the awful fear that they would be sent away, green and untrained and helpless, within a week.

The rumor mill began operation immediately. New York and Fort Bragg will be bombed within the month, the rumors said. Probably, by that time, all of us will be in Hawaii or Russia or Persia or Africa. Green and untrained and helpless. This business of teaching a man for thirteen weeks in a replacement center will be dispensed with, now that war is upon us. You're a civilian one day and a rookie member of a seasoned fighting outfit the next.

Except for a few for whom the radio held a terrible fascination the men thought first of communicating with their families, their friends, their sweethearts. They immediately went for writing materials and for the two public telephones of the club. Almost all of the 64,000 men of Fort Bragg were trying to reach their homes through the eight trunk lines which ran out of the pitifully overburdened little telephone exchange in Fayetteville.

Miss Ethel Walker, who was acting as senior hostess for the Replacement Center's Service Club, had planned an entertainment program for the evening, but when she looked out at the tension in the social hall, she despaired. She telephoned her boss, Major Herston M. Cooper, the special services officer.

"There's no use trying to put on the show tonight," she said. "Shall I cancel it? And may I turn off the radio?"

"If it's a good program, keep it," said the major. "And by all means leave the radio on. Just hang on; I'll be there in five minutes."

The major, a former criminologist and schoolteacher in Birmingham, was a lean and mischievous-looking infantry officer with a gift of gab and a camaraderie with the enlisted men. He sauntered into the Service Club, noised it about that he was going to talk, and hooked up the public address microphone.

"Here it comes," said an unhappy acting corporal. "Here comes the higher brass, to tell us the worst."

The major cleared his throat and looked over the crowd which gathered about him. "I know that this is your Service Club," he said, "and I'm a staff officer barging in on you. Before I was an officer, I was an enlisted man. And, as an enlisted man, I've done more KP than any man in this room."

A little of the tension passed and the major lapsed into one of his conversationally absent-minded ramblings. "In fact, I went on KP every time they inspected my rifle. Couldn't keep the thing clean."

He paused. "The main thing that has us worrying this afternoon is the very same thing we're being trained to protect. It's what they call the American Way—and they spell it with capitals.

"I have my own ideas about the American Way. I think the American Way is shown in you boys whose parents paid school taxes so that you could know what it was to sail boats. It's shown in the man who put two dollars to see a wrestling match, and in watch the wrestlers but to love the referee. It's the good old go-to-hell American spirit and you can't find it anywhere but here.

"You and I both, when we were called into the Army, brought our homes with us. We've been thinking less about war than about getting back home after a while—back to our girls and our wives and our civilian jobs.

"Well, we know now where we stand and we don't have to worry about whether we're in for a long stretch or a short vacation. That should be cleared up now. We know that we've got only one job now and we haven't time to worry about the one at home.

"You're worrying because you're not prepared soldiers, you're not ready to fight yet. When the time comes for you to go, you'll be ready. You'll have your fundamental training before you leave the Replacement Center.

"Spending your duty hours at work and your leisure hours at worry

"As an enlisted man, I've done more KP than any man in this room," said the major.

—that's no good. That's what the enemy wants for you."

"I guess that's all, boys."

He turned to leave the microphone, but returned as if he had suddenly remembered something.

"The regular variety show will go on tonight at eight o'clock," he said.

They come and they go from the Replacement Center more quickly now, or perhaps it merely seems that they do. The training cycles have not been cut down much, but the turnover of men seems greater. Perhaps it's just that we notice the arrivals and departures more, now that war has given them grimness.

We call the train—the one that brings in recruits and takes out soldiers—the Shanghai Express. The term probably was used first by some disgruntled soldier who put into it the bitterness of a difficult transition from civilian to soldier. Now the term is used with a certain tender fondness by the permanent personnel of the Center, we who watch the men come and go.

The melancholy moan of a train whistle is heard in the distance of the night and a sergeant clicks his teeth wistfully. "Here she comes, boys," he says. "Here comes the Shanghai Express." The sound of the whistle identifies all that touches the heart of a soldier.

There was a group of new men coming in this morning, down at the railroad siding. Their new uniforms hung strangely upon them, conspicuous and uncertain and uncomfortable—new uniforms on new soldiers.

They were frightened and ill at ease, these men. A week ago they had been civilians and the prospect of the Army had probably hung over some of them like a Damoclean sword. They had been told, by well-meaning friends, that the Army wouldn't be so bad once they got used to it. The Army will make you or break you, they had been told. The Army really isn't as bad as it's painted, they had heard. All of this, in a diabolically suggestive way, had opened conjectures to terrify the most indomitable.

This morning, they still hadn't had time to get over their fears. They still had no idea of what Army life was going to be like. Most of all and first of all, they wondered; "What sort of place is this we're coming into?"

Their spirits were still at their lowest point — past, present, or future.

The Replacement Center band, led by wizened little Master Sergeant Knowles, was there to greet them with a welcome that might dispel from them the feeling that they were cattle being shipped into the fort on consignment. First there were the conventional but stirring military marches, the "Caisson Song" and all the rest. And then there was a sly and corny rendition of the "Tiger Rag," a friendly musical wink that said, "Take it easy, brother."

Just as their arrival marks an emotional ebb, their departure is the flood tide. The men who came in a few weeks ago, green and terrified, leave now as soldiers. The corporal whom they dreaded then is now just a jerk who's bucking for sergeant. Although they are glad that they have been trained with other men on the same level here, the training center which was first a vast and awful place is now just a training center, all right in its way—for rookies. They themselves have outgrown their kindergarten.

The band is at the railroad siding, this time to see them off with a flourish. They pay more atention to the band this time. They know the "Caisson Song." They know their own Replacement Center Marching Song, composed by one of their number, a quiet little ex-music teacher named Harvey Bosell. They hum the tune as they go aboard.

They see the commanding general standing on the side lines with his aide. He is no longer an ogre out of Washington who might, for all they know, have the power of life and death over them to administer it at a whim. He is the commanding general, a good soldier and a good fellow, and it was damned white of him to come down to see them off.

They board the train and they sit waiting for it to take them to their permanent Army post and their part in the war.

As a special favor and for old time's sake, the band swings slowly into the song that is the voice of their nostalgia, "The Sidewalks of New York," Yankee or Rebel, Minnesotan or Navadan, they love that song.

You can see their faces tightening a little, and a gentle melancholy look come into their eyes as the trombone wails beneath the current of the music. Their melancholy is melancholy with a shrug now. Home and whatever else was dearest to them a few months ago are still dear, but a soldier has to push them into the background when there's a war to be fought.

With the music still playing, the train pulls slowly out and Sergeant Knowles waves it goodby with his baton.

An old sergeant, kept in the Replacement Center to train the men whose fathers fought with him a generation ago, stands on the side and watches them with a firm, proud look.

"Give 'em hell, boys," he shouts behind them. "Give 'em hell!"

Point Wisdom

There should be some sort of an "E" award for the housewives who go about their business daily, keeping their homes in order and feeding their families nutritious, well-balanced meals in spite of high prices and hiked-up point values.

And to you ladies who rate or would rate the household "E" aren't you finding new respect for foods low in points or which require no points? I wager there's many an egg with a heart of gold that's come to your rescue and hitherto-scorned fish that's made a hearty and delicious meal when points have been all used up.

Both eggs and fish are complete proteins, and they are just as important as meat in building and repairing body tissue which is necessary every day. Both can be combined into just as looked-for dishes as meat and cheese which are rationed.

A word of caution when you cook those precious eggs. Use low temperatures whether you fry, scramble, cook or bake them, otherwise you will have tough, leathery eggs. Cook them carefully, and ah! you will indeed discover how delightful they truly are. Use variety in serving eggs, too, and don't just go through the humdrum monotony of serving them plain boiled, scrambled or fried.

Spanish Eggs on Toast.
(Serves 4)
8 stuffed egg halves
4 slices of toast
Spanish sauce

Lay slices of toast on bottom of baking dishes. Prepare Hot Stuffed eggs as suggested in following recipe and arrange eggs on top of toast. Pour hot Spanish sauce over and around eggs. Garnish with toast triangles. Serve at once.

Stuffed Eggs.
4 hard-cooked eggs
⅛ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper or cayenne
3 tablespoons salad dressing
1 teaspoon chopped parsley

Cut eggs in half lengthwise or crosswise. Remove yolks, press through sieve. Add seasonings and dressing. Beat until fluffy and refill egg whites. Top stuffed eggs with buttered crumbs and broil or bake in hot oven about 6 minutes or until crumbs are browned.

Spanish Sauce.

Prepare about 3 cups of your favorite tomato sauce and season rather highly. Add 2 tablespoons chopped onion and 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper at the last.

Eggs a la King.
(Serves 3 to 4)
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
Salt and pepper
6 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
¼ pound mushrooms
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper

Melt butter or margarine in top of double boiler; add flour and stir to a smooth paste. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly, and season. Cook 5 minutes over boiling water. Add eggs, sliced mushrooms sauteed in butter or margarine, pimiento, and green pepper. Reheat. Serve on toast or in rice ring.

Chinese Omelet.
(Serves 6)
½ cup uncooked rice
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
3 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon paprika
1¼ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon dry mustard
4 tablespoons grated cheese

Cook rice until tender. Rinse with hot and cold water. Make a sauce of butter or margarine, flour and milk. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Beat egg yolks. Add rice, sauce, seasonings and cheese. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased shallow pan. Bake at 350 to 375 degrees for 35 minutes.

Do you frequent the fish counters at least twice a week to look for bargains in fresh fish? If you don't, you should, for it's a splendid way of providing your family with a good quality protein food, to say nothing of the way in which you save points for meat.

Baked Fish.

Clean fish and prepare for stuffing. Dry carefully inside and sprinkle with salt. Stuff and sew up fish. Rub with melted fat, salt and dredge with flour. Place on a greased fish sheet in dripping pan. Place over fish small pieces of salt pork or brush with oil. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate (350-degree) oven.

Fish Stuffing.
1½ cups bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 egg, beaten
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon lemon juice or
¼ teaspoon herb seasoning

Combine all ingredients together and add enough milk or soup stock to hold ingredients together in a moist dressing. Fill fish, then sew sides together with a coarse needle and thread.

Baked Halibut with Spanish Sauce.
2 pounds halibut
Spanish Sauce:
1 can tomato soup
1 small onion chopped
4 tablespoons green pepper, chopped

Place halibut in greased utility dish. Mix tomato soup with green pepper and onion and pour over fish. Bake for 1 hour in a 375-degree oven.

Lynn Says:

Meat Stretchers: Store and cook meat properly for greatest economy. Fresh meat is best stored if wiped with a damp cloth, covered loosely with waxed paper and stored in coldest part of refrigerator.

Variety meats, ground meats and fish should be used 24 hours after purchasing. Ground meat darkens if allowed to stand and spoils more quickly than whole cuts.

Frozen meat keeps indefinitely in the freezing unit. However, after thawing, it spoils more quickly than other meat and should be cooked immediately.

Cooked meats should be covered closely to prevent drying and stored in coldest part of refrigerator. Do not cut, grind or slice until ready to use.

Poultry should be cleaned and washed before refrigerating. It keeps better if stored whole rather than in pieces.

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good
For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

FALSE TEETH HELD FIRMLY BY "Comfort Cushion"

NOW WEAR YOUR PLATES EVERY DAY—
HELD COMFORTABLY SNUG THIS WAY

It's so easy to wear your plates regularly—all day—when held firmly in place by this "comfort-cushion"—a dentist's formula.

1. Dr. Wernet's plate powder forms soothing "comfort-cushion" between plate and guma—let's you enjoy solid foods, avoid embarrassment of loose plates. Helps prevent sore gums.
2. World's largest selling plate powder. Recommended by dentists for over 30 years.
3. Dr. Wernet's powder is economical; a very small amount lasts longer.
4. Made of whitest, costliest ingredient—so pure you eat it in ice cream. Dr. Wernet's plate powder is pleasant tasting.

WOMAN IN THE WAR

Ethel Brett, who works in a U. S. Navy Yard, agrees with the men in the Navy who have made Camel their favorite. "Camels have a grand flavor, and they don't get my throat," she says.

CAMELS GIVE ME JUST WHAT I WANT— A MILDER SMOKE THAT ALWAYS TASTES FRESH AND DELIGHTFUL

CHECK CAMELS WITH YOUR "T-ZONE"

The "T-ZONE"—Taste and Throat—is the proving ground for cigarettes. Only your taste and throat can decide which cigarette tastes best to you . . . and how it affects your throat. Based on the experience of millions of smokers, we believe Camels will suit your "T-ZONE" to a "T." Prove it for yourself!

Cass Youth Fellowship Presents Special Service For Flag Dedication

The Cass Youth Fellowship of the Methodist Church presented a special service on Sunday, November 14, combining a celebration of Armistice Day and the dedication of the new Service Flags. A large crowd attended.

The church altar was attractively decorated with red, white and blue paper, lighted red and white candles, and miniature American flags. The church also was decorated with a large American flag and a Christian flag.

The program, honoring men from the church now serving the nation, consisted of the following features, in charge of Marie Dill, and emphasizing the theme, "Followers of the Prince of Peace":

Prelude—"Finlandia."
Call to worship—By the leader.

PART I

(a) Penitance
Silent prayer.
Hymn—"Dear Lord and Father of Mankind."
Scripture—Matthew 5:21-24-43-48, by Evelyn Galford.

(b) Fellowship
Poem—"Behold the Day is Drawing Near," by Julia Fisher.

(c) Discipline
Poem—"We Would Be Building," by Pauline Dahmer.
Prayer—By Ted Shinaberry.

PART II

Music—"Star-Spangled Banner."
Salute to American Flag—By Beulah Dahmer.
Salute to Christian Flag—By Bertha Lee Dill.
The American's Creed—by Marie Dill.
Story—"Thank God for America," by Bill Zopp.
Choir—"America for Christ."
Song—"America the Beautiful."
Poem—"Sound Forth, O Voice of God," by Maxine Fisher.
Dialogue—By Maxine Shinaberry and Catherine Sheets.

A Prayer for Our Nation was read in unison by the congregation, and the Armistice service concluded with the singing of the hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal."

The dedication of the Service Flags was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Q. R. Arbogast, with responses by the congregation. A prayer of dedication was given by Rev. Arbogast and the service was concluded with a response—Prayer for Men in Service—by the choir.

STYLES OF YESTERYEAR

YOUNGER folks during the bicycle age fifty years ago pedaled two-wheelers, but the oldsters drove tricycles. And the society women wore leg-o-mutton sleeves with spectacles of nondescript style hanging from a cord.

How styles have changed, says the Better Vision Institute. Grandma wants an airplane. Smart women want sleek, clinging dresses with no extra puffs. Men and women generally want smart, stylish spectacles that improve their faces.

TRAPPERS SUPPLYING NEW, VITAL NEED

Illustration reproduced by permission of Photo Section, Philadelphia Q. M. Depot

America's trappers—including the youngsters and the women who are carrying on for absent sons, brothers and husbands—may rightfully smile with pride as they keep the nation's traplines going. For the product of their endeavor, fur, is playing a new role today.

Always valued as a source of income and as an article of high fashion and warmth, fur is now doing its part in outfitting Uncle Sam's Arctic fighters—so that they may better withstand the rigors of cold. As an example, parka hoods for the uniforms of our ski troopers (see illustration) are among the items whose production depends upon the output of the country's traplines. Also the fur vests worn by the men who sail our ships through Northern waters. With increased attention being paid to materials for warm clothing, furs are becoming more and more important to a fighting victory-bound America.

The raw fur crop is here—along the streams, in the woods and fields—literally waiting to be taken. Practically no investment is required—only some traps and the effort needed to run the trapline. And as for the effort, if desired it can be limited to spare time—a feature which fits in beautifully with either schoolboy's or housewife's daily routine.

War Fund Reaches Goal

Harper M. Smith, county chairman, who ably directed the successful campaign of the National War Fund drive here, stating that the campaign has exceeded the quota of $3,500 for Pocahontas county. Mr. Smith issued the following letter of appreciation:

"To the Citizens of Pocahontas County:

The National War Fund quota for Pocahontas County has been exceeded. I want to thank every one of the Associated Charities sharing in the effort, who in any way contributed to the cause, and especially the solicitors who worked so diligently. Our county newspapers which have put the issue before our people. We hope our share will help to bring this terrible war to a speedy end.

Pocahontas county has again won for Patriotism and Loyalty.

Very sincerely,

"HARPER M. SMITH,

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazis Wreck Northern Italian Ports To Hamper Future Allied Operations; United Nations Formulate Relief Plan; U. S. Issues Current Casualty Figures

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

ITALY:
Destroy Ports

Italy's northern ports of Leghorn and Pescara were blocked by Nazi demolition squads to render them useless to the Allies for future operations, or in the event Gen. Dwight Eisenhower attempted landings above Rome to trap elements of five German divisions holding out in the mountainous country to the south.

Principal action in Italy centered on the Fifth army front, where Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark's mixed British and U. S. forces were edging forward at the mountain passes at Mignano, to gain the long, level valley leading to Rome.

Once General Clark's warriors burst through at Mignano, they still will have to buck elaborate Nazi mountain fortresses farther up the valley at Cassino, which stands some 60 miles from Rome. Because Allied troops must clamber up rugged slopes in the face of entrenched enemy machine gunners and mortars, and U. S. artillery must rake whole mountain sides to clear out Nazi nests, progress necessarily is slow.

Fit Italy Into War

To get Italy functioning on the side of the Allies, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower established a control commission headed by Maj. Gen. Kenyon Joyce, formerly of the 9th service command.

Purpose of the commission will be to fit the country's agriculture and industry into Allied war plans, and to regulate Italian governmental administration.

To prevent any political party from establishing its hold over the country through military force, the commission will control Italy's revived fighting services.

Advising the commission will be the U. S., British, Russian and French committee on Mediterranean affairs, and Greece and Jugoslavia will be included later.

WORLD RELIEF:
Allied Plans

Assembling in the east room of the White House, representatives from 44 United Nations signed an agreement for the relief and rehabilitation of Europe, with each country providing supplies to the limit of its capacity.

Herbert Lehman

Of the $1 billion fund, $700,000,000 will be contributed by the U. S. and $200,000,000 by Great Britain. The U. S. will furnish nearly 3½ million tons, Great Britain 2½ million tons, Russia 50 million tons, and other nations 3 million tons. Congress will appropriate the funds for American participation.

Named for appointment as director general of the relief and rehabilitation administration was former Governor Herbert Lehman of New York. Purpose of the administration is to take care thousand people of occupied areas until they can get back to work and until back into production.

CROPS:
Weather Helps

Profiting from favorable weather, the 1943 corn crop was estimated at 3 billion, 85 million bushels by the department of agriculture on the basis of conditions November 1. This compared with last year's record crop of 3 billion, 175 million bushels.

With October weather good and without widespread frosts, the large acreage of late corn reached maturity in Iowa, Missouri, northwestern Ohio, and parts of Michigan and Indiana. Checking summer drouths, rains perked up late corn in the South Central states. Record yields were in prospect for the Northwest.

Other crop estimates for 1943: Wheat, 835,816,000 bushels; oats, 1,148,692,000; barley, 330,212,000; rye, 33,314,000; flaxseed, 51,486,000; soy beans, 206,017,000; rice, 69,019,000; potatoes, 469,092,000; sugar beets, 7,239,000 tons, and peanuts, 2,681,955,000 pounds—record highs for rice, potatoes and peanuts.

Hogs Crowd Markets

Chicago's sprawling stockyards teemed with over 60,000 live hogs after a high three-day shipment of 128,500 head, which compared with 85,552 for the previous week and 66,418 for the same period of 1942.

As a result, packers paid the "floor" of $13.75 for only the heavier weights out of the 200 to 275 pound range on which the government has pledged price support. Packers obtained many bargains in classes for which no "floor" has been constructed.

So called "floor" prices were high on the flooded market, equalling the lowest tops since last December.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC:
At Japs' Rear

Pursuing his policy of pinching off Japanese strongholds in the Southwest Pacific by cutting off their communications, Gen. Douglas MacArthur has established U. S. forces to the rear of the enemy's important forward base of Buin on Bougainville island in the Solomons.

With U. S. marines and doughboys standing astride the Japs' communication lines leading to Buin, they were in position to strike against the enemy supplies, and his main body from the rear.

Bougainville is the Japs' last important holding in the Solomons, and apparently they were determined to take advantage of the wild nature of the humid, tropical isle for another long, delaying action.

U. S. CASUALTIES:
Total 120,967

U. S. casualties totaled 120,967 for almost two years of war, with the army reporting 89,648, and the navy 31,317.

Of the army casualties, 13,841 were killed, 30,261 wounded, 23,962 missing and 13,582 prisoners. Since the landing of Salerno, September 9, the U. S. suffered 2,238 casualties in Italy, with 1,205 killed, 4,794 wounded and 2,427 missing.

Of the navy casualties, 12,545 are dead, 8,550 wounded, 1,899 missing, and 8,323 prisoners.

Of the nearly 7,700,000 men in the army, about 3,600,000 men will be serving abroad by the end of the year.

RUSSIA:
Attack Last Railroad

Russia's last north-south railway came under the attack of Red troops as they pressed forward on a 70-mile front west of recaptured Kiev.

As the Russians drove against the railroad, other forces of their army continued attacks on Nevel, less than 50 miles from the Latvian border in the north, and on Krivoi Rog in the south.

At Krivoi Rog, the Germans continued to hold open an escape corridor for the last columns of Nazi forces pulling out of the huge bend of the Dnieper river, where early Russian attacks had threatened them with encirclement.

Crossing into the eastern Crimea from the Caucasus, strong Russian forces drew up for a major attack on the 75,000 German troops reportedly massed in the huge peninsula, guarding the Black sea. The Nazis held their ground at the north entrance to the Crimea.

TIRES:
Continued Shortage

Although production of synthetic rubber is expected to total 818,000 tons in 1944 compared with 233,000 tons this year, only about 30 million tires will be manufactured to meet needs of essential users of cars, light delivery trucks, taxis and farm vehicles. Ordinarily, 50 million tires are made a year.

Tightness in the civilian tire supply will prevail because of military requirements, scarcity of manpower to operate fabricating equipment, reduction in the peace time inventory of tires, shortage of rayon cord for heavy duty tires, and the cut in crude rubber imports.

To obtain maximum use of present tires, the rubber manufacturers' committee counseled drivers to preserve their tire carcasses, or bodies, for recapping by protecting the walls and not running down treads. Further, the committee advised low speeds, adequate air for tubes, and proper alignment for wheels and axles.

Homemade Penicillin

One of medicine's most precious cures, magical penicillin, is being produced at "five cents a plateful" by Dr. Julius A. Vogel in the kitchen of his Pittsburgh, Pa., residence. Properly equipped, any doctor can grow his own supply, Dr. Vogel says.

Dr. Vogel

Plant physician for the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation, Vogel has used his penicillin to treat external infections, with complete cures effected in more than a score of cases.

CHILD DELINQUENCY:
Supervision Needed

During the last year, delinquency among girls has increased 38 per cent and among boys 11 per cent, Katherine Lenroot, chief of the children's bureau of the department of labor, declared.

With 5½ million women with children under 14 years of age working, and many fathers in service or sleeping days, a general weakening in home supervision is a contributing cause for the delinquency, Miss Lenroot said. More than one million more women will be needed in industry this year, she reported.

Other factors of delinquency, Miss Lenroot asserted, are lack of school facilities in war-expanded communities, and the increase in child labor to five million this year.

"There would be little juvenile delinquency today if children were treated as as much of an emergency as armament production," Miss Lenroot concluded.

LEND-LEASE:
British Aid

Up to last June 30, British lend-lease assistance to the U. S. totaled 871 million dollars, of which the major share consisted in supplying base facilities, barracks and hospitals for American land and air forces in the United Kingdom. Incomplete figures indicated assistance to date has topped one billion dollars.

Not included in the accounting, the British said, was the cost of food furnished on the fighting fronts where no adequate records could be kept, and the value of information and experience gained in battle and relayed to the U. S. army and industry.

The British assistance does not include lend-lease granted the U. S. by Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India, who operate under separate agreements. On August 28, President Roosevelt reported U. S. lend-lease assistance to Britain alone totaled nearly 4¾ billion dollars.

BUILDING

In the first 18 months after the final armistice there will be five and a quarter billion dollars spent on private construction, according to a survey of the nation's building needs. About 2½ billion will be expended annually between 1947 and 1951, the report estimates.

Residential building will reach the high point before 1950, and dip to a low in the middle fifties. Commercial, industrial and community buildings will total over a billion dollars a year between 1947 and '51.

U. S. Office of Air Safety Guards Cadets in Training

Accident Statistics Prove Value of Regional Safety Officers' Work; Program Has Three Main Divisions.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

The army air force has been around the world 134,078 times! That is what air miles add up to—three billion, three hundred and fifty-two million in the fiscal year 1943.

Just how safe is the job of a pilot?

Not the job where you have to count on the enemy fighters and the ack-ack, but the job of learning to be a pilot.

"Ninety-five out of every hundred army air force cadets are going through their flight training program with no personal injury of any kind," says Col. Sam Harris, chief, army air force office of flying safety.

The office of air safety is the institution which has built safety into training programs as a highly emphasized part of the whole regime. It has three main principles.

Initial Phase

The first is "prevention and investigation," and the keynote here is experience. The 54 officers who take care of this end of the work have a total air experience of 33 years, 318 days in the air. These men, known as regional safety officers (RSOs) are assigned to each air force and command in the United States.

Here is an example of how the RSO works. He goes to a certain field. He meets some cadets who say they haven't had any breakfast. He puts that down in his notes. He looks the place over, notes a ditch parallel to a runway. He orders the ditch filled, talks with the mess officer and has breakfast served earlier. Then he tackles the boys themselves. He gives them a talk on the importance of instruments. Three separate moves and the accidents are cut down there.

The second principle is "flight control." Here is where the flight control officer, traffic cop of the air, comes in. For traffic control is as important in the air as on the street. The men of this force offer a Pilot's Advisory Counsel. This service leads pilots through or around dangerous traffic or weather conditions.

Suppose the flight control officer in the Seattle center knows Lieutenant Smith is headed in that direction. He also knows that a "cold front" is moving across his path. So he radios Smith, tells him to make for an alternate airport.

No. 3 on the list of safeties is "safety education."

Safety Education

Most of the accidents in training in the United States are due to personnel error—the fault of the human being, not the weather or the machine. This education comes through special movies, through manuals, through cartoons and posters.

Here are some of the slogans that help:

"Hitler and Hirohito cheer . . . when you forget your maps . . ., when you pay no attention to telephone wires . . . when you jam on your brakes . . . when you don't check your gas . . ."

Other points are driven home with a little sardonic humor such as "when a pilot thinks he's pretty hot, he's usually close to burning." "To grow old in the natural way, a pilot has to use his luck sparingly . . ."

The first six months of 1943 compared with all of 1942, show these percentages of reduction of accidents:

|---|---|
| In primary schools | 2.3% |
| In basic schools | 5.5% |
| In advanced schools | 11% |

And just see the table for accidents as miles flown go up!

1921-30—Miles flown, 155,818,000—accident rate, 2.11.

1943—Miles flown, 3,351,940,000—accident rate, .716.

That's how America is learning safety in the skyways.

War Brings Recognition To Psychiatry

There will be so many changes after the war that a lot of words will not even have the same meanings. New things and new thinking will appear and people will have to learn the new words in order to think the new thoughts.

Already the war has caused psychiatry to be "adequately recognized," according to Dr. Richard Hutchings, who is the author of "A Psychiatric Word Book" published by the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene and now in its seventh edition.

This is not a book for laymen but it is exceedingly interesting to scan its pages just to see how ordinary words can achieve new meanings as new thoughts about new things develop. The word book is invaluable to the doctor and many others who will be more and more concerned with this important study of interpersonal relations—psychiatry.

Let's take a layman's look at the pages of the little pocket volume.

Starting at the beginning with "a-an." Not the simple articles they look! The definition is not new in this case but shows the special meaning the person who reads psychiatry must know. The definition reads:

"Prefixes derived from the Greek and having the same meaning as the prefix un- or the suffix -less. Without; absence of; not. Cf. amentia, anosmia."

That takes us to amentia which means (1) absence of intellect; (2) a state of mind bordering on stupor; (3) feeblemindedness."

You have heard of behavior but what is behaviorism? It is "the psychological theory which holds that correct conclusions in psychology must rest upon objective study and interpretation of behavior."

You have also heard of conversion. Here is the psychiatrist's meaning of it. "The process by which an emotional trauma (that is an emotional 'wound') after repression becomes converted into a physical symptom in hysteria."

Practical Application

If you think that sounds too high brow, just recall the remark: "He's had that squint ever since he saw that terrible accident."

There are a lot more interesting new meanings clear over to the last word "zoopsia" which you know all about if you ever saw "Ten Nights in a Barroom," the great prohibition play. "Zoopsia" is what we (incorrectly) call "D.T.'s." The definition is "a visual hallucination of animals or insects."

The little book also has an appendix in which there are careful and more detailed descriptions of the emotions—anxiety, fear, pride, vanity, etc., which we now know are as dangerous to our mental health when they get out of control as a flock of flu germs are to our bodily welfare.

I'll give you a definition of the one emotion which is highly important because when it gets the upper hand in politics, it can do as much harm to a form of government as to an individual.

"Egoism and egotism are not synonyms. Egoism is a self-seeking desire to gain advantages at the expense of the rights, convenience or possessions of others. It is essentially antisocial. Egotism is overvaluation of self, one's opinions, ability or cleverness and corresponding undervaluation of others."

Now, just apply that definition of egoism to blocs, political parties, nations and you'll see why psychiatry is important in the new world. The more people who understand it, the more people will understand each other.

The words in "A Psychiatric Word Book" are important words.

Popular Questions

Here are answers to three questions I was asked most frequently on a recent trip to the Middle West:

(1) When will the war be over?

I don't know. I wouldn't be surprised if Germany cracked inside this winter. At least another year to clean up Japan.

(2) What about international cooperation afterward?

I don't know. The feeling I get in Washington is that there will be an honest attempt to form an international league, just as it is suggested in the Moscow conference.

(3) Will President Roosevelt run for a Fourth Term?

I doubt if even he knows that either. He probably will unless the war is done and over.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

It was not until almost 300 years after Columbus that first commercial use was made of rubber. Native rubber articles — play balls, bowls, bottles, belts, caps and shoes—were brought to Spain and Portugal from various parts of Central and Northern South America years before the commercial uses of rubber were realized.

A rapidly growing army of more than 500 rubber-growing specialists from the U. S. is now in the Amazon rubber district speeding the collection of crude rubber and conquering the last disease factor that takes severe toll of the jungle rubber.

CENTRAL GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES

FOR SOME 150 YEARS we Americans have thought of government as that of our town, our county, or our state. Our interests lay in the race for such offices as sheriff and board of supervisors, for mayor and councilmen, for members of the state legislature and governor. We elected congressmen and senators to represent us in Washington at what seemed much like a side show of government in which we were not greatly interested. Once each four years we got a thrill out of the contest for President but it did not make much difference to any of us which candidate won.

It was the local and state governments, not Washington, that enacted and enforced the laws that affected us as individuals. That it should be thus was decided in that historic controversy between Jefferson and Hamilton during the two terms Washington served as the nation's first President. Jefferson demanded the right of the people to local self government. Hamilton would centralize government at the nation's capital. So bitter was the contest it almost resulted in a small civil war before Jefferson was successful and the people had settled down to those self governing rights their champion had won for them.

That was for the first 150 years only. Today Washington is no longer a governmental side show. It has become the "big top" with Hamiltonian policies dominating. Our state, county and town governments have largely become useless appendages. We are directed and regulated by the federal government. Washington tells us what to do, what to eat, what to raise on our farms, what we may buy and at what price, how we will heat our homes, how much wages we may have and how many hours we may work in a week, for what we may use gasoline and hundreds of other things that affect each of us as individuals.

While some of these are a result of the wartime emergency many were in effect before Pearl Harbor and will continue when the war is over. They represent a new conception of government to which we have not become accustomed.

To get us back to those days of Jeffersonian local self government, to get us away from the Hamiltonian policies, to re-establish the place of the state, the county and the town, depends, not upon whom we elect as governor of the state, as sheriff of the county or mayor of the town, but upon the men we Americans collectively send to Washington as congressmen and senators. They are today the important cogs in our governmental machinery.

SELFISHNESS AND THE WAR EFFORT

THE WAR has not cured us of what has become a dominant American trait, selfishness. We are, each of us, for an all-out war effort on the part of the other fellow. When it comes to government handouts we are opposed to all except those that benefit us as individuals, our group or our section. Legislation that will benefit us, regardless of its effect on others or on the nation generally, would be enacted by congress. Each of us wishes to be the white-haired favorite child. The merits of a congressman are judged by the amount of federal bacon he brings home to the people of his district. State governors meet to determine the needs of the nation and each "views with alarm" all activities other than those favorable to his state. It may have always been thus in some degree but never before to the extent of today. The government, including congress, has listened to groups until these groups dominate us as a nation. Such selfishness have fed and enlarged our American trait of selfishness until we are in danger of being consumed by it.

DISPLAY TAX REPORTS

ONE WAY to make possible the collection of larger income taxes is for congress, the treasury department, or whoever prepares what are called instructions for filing out income tax reports, to make them sufficiently intelligible for the average person to understand. The instructions I received early in September about reporting probable income for 1943 were about as clear as mud. I put a tax expert to decipher them for me. I would gladly have paid the cost of that expert advice on additional income taxes. Washington seems to think a simple, understandable statement would not be in keeping with the dignity of government and so makes the employment of tax experts necessary.

GOOD WORD ON EGGS

If you like eggs—fried, scrambled, or Easter—this may interest you.

The high price of eggs will soon come tumbling down. This Humpty-Dumpty event will be brought about by the sale of five million cases of government eggs.

War Food administration, responding to the prodding of critics, admits that it was putting too many eggs in one basket, for military and lend-lease requirements, at the expense of civilian requirements.

Release of this tremendous quantity of eggs won't alarm the housewife, but worries War Food experts because it might discourage production for next year.

Meantime, War Food and OPA are rowing over the price to be paid for these five million cans of cold storage eggs. WFA officials, protecting the producers, want a higher price for cold storage eggs than fresh eggs.

OPA, thinking of the housewife, says: "This is the first time we ever heard that eggs become more valuable as they get older!"

But War Food stands firm on the principle that the old eggs should bring more money. Their reason is that the old eggs were stored by dealers who were playing the usual seasonal game of holding for a rise in price, without realizing that the government was going to step in and take over at the fixed price.

In other words, War Food experts are trying to hand dealers some of the speculative profit they might have gotten, while OPA—trying to protect the consumer—wants to hold the price down.

The inside government egg debate is still raging.

COLD WINTER AHEAD

Whatever you burn this winter—oil or coal—it is still going to be cold.

The public has the impression that it is only coal which is short now. Actually, oil is even shorter, rations for this winter being based on a 34 per cent cut below pre-war consumption.

The fuel situation is so bad that OPA experts several months ago recommended coupon rationing of coal. A warm debate followed between OPA and the Solid Fuel Coordinator, in which Ickes, supported by the coal industry, opposed rationing.

But OPA experts believed coal would be short this winter and, during the summer, laid plans for coupon rationing. In August, they were all ready to go to press with millions of coupon books.

Finally, however, the coal co-ordinator vetoed the plan. Now it is too late to impose coupon rationing—partly because there is not sufficient time to print the coupons and give out instructions to local boards; also because some coal is already supposed to be distributed—inequitably—to consumers.

Thus we shall have to rely on "dealer rationing." This does not limit consumption—only strings out the supply in driblets, making a greater delivery task without decreasing consumption.

The public believes that oil is bountiful compared with coal, and OPA is now besieged with applications for reconversion from coal to oil. These applications are being resisted, since the impression of abundance of oil is merely an illusion.

FEWER TIRES FOR ALLIES

One thing not discussed at the Moscow conference was rubber tires. If the question had been raised, Russia would have been told that tires on Lend-Lease will have to be reduced sharply.

Reason is that U. S. trucks and buses are wearing their tires down to the fabric, and Jesse Jones' long ballyhooed synthetic tires are falling behind schedule. There is plenty of new rubber, but a dire lag in tire production.

Meanwhile, bus and truck transportation has never been more vital. Last year inter-city buses carried more passengers than the railroads (680 million compared with 669 million), though they travelled fewer miles.

If they are crippled, the weight would be thrown back on the already struggling railroads. Also, many places would be without transportation, since 54,000 communities have no rail service.

The army, OPA, ODT and the rubber director's office are putting their heads together to find a way out. One solution will be a reduction of tires shipped on Lend-Lease. Russia alone was promised 300,000 this year, in addition to 3,000,000 already delivered.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS

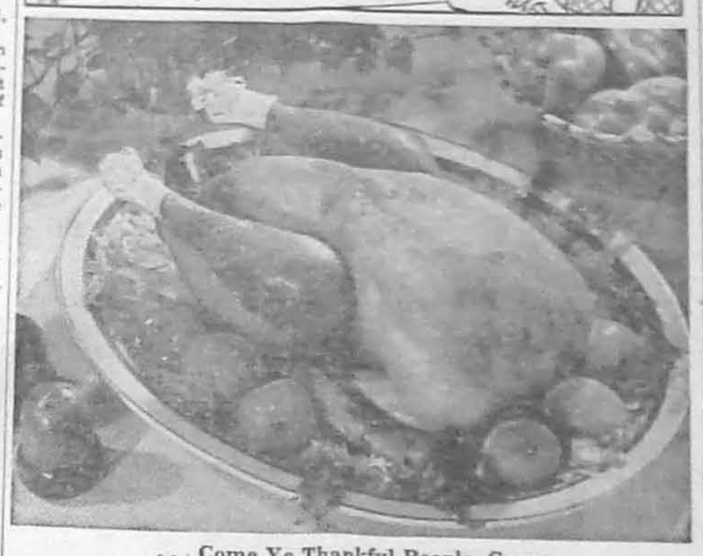
by Lynn Chambers



. . . Come Ye Thankful People, Come

(See Recipes Below)

Thanksgiving!

Traditional Thanksgiving turkey may this year give way to roast chicken, but the feast can have all the spirit of those you have had in former years. Though your meal may be less elaborate, every food can be done to a turn, the frills may be just as interesting, and your thanks can rise to a new height.

Let the charm of your dinner lie in its simplicity. Get the most out of your food and prepare it to deliciousness. The same vegetables that you had with turkey can go with chicken—if turnip puffs or corn pudding or squash or sweet potato and apples are a tradition in your family.

Prepare your chicken with the same care you would give turkey and it will look as nice and taste just wonderful. It's easy enough to truss chicken properly so that it will look nice. Here's one way of doing it:

Trussing Chicken.

Insert trussing needle through body of chicken below knee joint and pull cord through; continue cord through wings. Tie tightly to hold wings close to body. Stuff neck opening of chicken with stuffing and tuck neck skin under cord. Use another piece of cord, and insert needle through legs' rear joint. Stuff body cavity and truss opening with truss pins or cord. Draw cord from legs around tail piece and tie legs down close to body.

The stuffing is just as important as the chicken itself. Have it not too soggy, not too dry, and well seasoned:

Celery Stuffing.

1 cup finely chopped celery
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon butter or fat
⅛ teaspoon marjoram
⅛ teaspoon celery seed
Salt and pepper
Water or stock
2½ cups bread crumbs

Cook celery onion and parsley in fat for a few minutes. Add other ingredients with enough liquid to hold together and make dressing slightly moist.

Roast Chicken.

4 to 5 pound roasting chicken
Salt (⅛ to ¼ teaspoon per pound)
Stuffing
Melted fat

Singe chicken, clean, wash and dry. Rub inside with salt. Stuff lightly with celery stuffing and truss. Rub surface with unsalted fat. Place on rack in an uncovered roaster, breast up. Cover with layer of fat from body of chicken, then with a clean cloth dipped into melted, unsalted fat. Roast, uncovered, in a slow oven (300 degrees) until tender, basting occasionally with drippings. Season with additional salt when half done.

Remove cloth near end of roasting period and allow to brown. A chicken weighing 4 to 5 pounds requires 30 to 35 minutes per pound to roast. A smaller chicken 40 to 45 minutes per pound.

Cranberry Sauce has a place with all fowl, and especially in the

Conserving Fuel: You'll not only be saving on your own fuel bills but also co-operating with government requests if you save on cooking heat. Here's how:

When using oven, plan to cook several items in it at once. Meat and vegetables, and even hot bread and dessert can all be cooked in oven. It's poor economy to use both oven and surface heat to get a dinner together.

Food should be ready for oven at the same time oven is correct temperature. Do not keep opening oven door to see "how things are coming along."

Thanksgiving dinner:

Cranberry Sauce.
3 cups cranberries
1½ cups sugar
1 cup hot water

Put berries, sugar and water into a saucepan and let stand for 5 minutes. Then cook 5 minutes. Remove from range and let stand 5 minutes, then cook for another 5 minutes. Cool and serve with roast fowl.

Now, for the vegetables. You will probably have several kinds in mind such as:

Baked Sweet Potatoes and Apples.
(Serves 4)

2 large tart apples
2 large cold cooked sweet potatoes
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons margarine
¼ cup corn or maple syrup

Core, pare and cut apples in slices. Saute each slice in margarine until nearly soft, browning the pieces thoroughly. Cut potatoes into rather thick slices, sprinkle with salt and place a slice of fried apple on the side of each potato. Arrange in a shallow baking dish, pour syrup over all, dot with butter. Bake ½ hour in a moderate oven until potato absorbs syrup.

Two-Hour Rolls.
(Makes 12 to 16 rolls)

1 yeast cake
½ cup lukewarm water
3 cups all-purpose flour, sifted
1 level tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 heaping tablespoons lard
½ cup milk

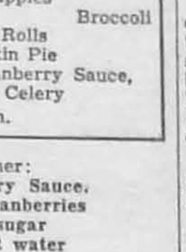
Dissolve yeast cake in lukewarm water. Mix dry ingredients, working in lard as for pie crust. Add milk and yeast mixture to make dough. Turn onto a floured board and knead well. Roll and cut into any shape. Let rise 2 hours. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees).



Your choice for dessert may be a pumpkin pie, or perhaps an old-fashioned steamed pudding with lemon sauce:

Steamed Pudding.
(Serves 6)

1 cup bread crumbs
½ cup sour milk
¼ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
½ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup raisins
½ cup chopped nuts

Soften bread crumbs in sour milk. Cream shortening and sugar until fluffy. Add vanilla and blend. Beat egg and combine with milk and crumbs, then add to first mixture. Sift dry ingredients and spices, add raisins and nuts and combine with first mixture. Steam for 1 hour in a greased mold.

Sportlight

by GRANTLAND RICE

WE ARE now moving into a rather strange, weird and complicated sporting world.

Many of the stronger college football teams of October are only remnants in November.

Grantland Rice

Star after star, singly and in groups, is heading now for Parris Island, a big marine base, or some other service center.

You could recruit a football team at Parris Island that would be unbeatable, given just a little time.

At the same time the draft is moving in on big league baseball.

Consider the Yankees alone.

Spud Chandler, their star pitcher, is on his way out, unless he is 4-F, which Spud isn't. Under the rules, Spud is 1-A.

Charlie ("King Kong") Keller, their home run hitter, is waiting his 1-A test. Keller is no 4-F. Nor a 2-A.

Joe Gordon, their feature second baseman, has had over 100 hours in the air—and he can't miss.

If Chandler, Keller and Gordon are not fit for service work we must have the super-army of all time. They happen to be three of the finest all-around athletes I've ever known on one ball club.

I happen to know that Bill Dickey, their veteran catcher, a first class flier, too old for any combat flying at 36, would like to get an instructor's flying job.

This same condition must apply to other teams. If the war remains tough or gets tougher, the call on sport will be even louder than it has been so far. And the call has been heavy.

Shifting Tides

In many cases football stars, playing at one college in October, are playing with rivals now.

Tides are shifting back and forth faster than the human eye can follow.

Is a team to be rated on its September and October form before the blast arrived, or is it to be rated on its November showing down the stretch?

In the past few weeks hundreds of good football players have been called away from teams scattered all over the national terrain.

There are some good teams left. In any event the balance of power is more evenly distributed.

Army and Navy are able to complete their season without any deficits in material.

We are not yet certain whether there will be further shifts from time to time, extending through December.

This, of course, would throw the various bowl situations into something approaching a tangle, if not a turmoil.

But there are still many rougher things happening in this war.

All-Star Selections

Those attempting to pick All-Star or All-American combinations also find themselves wading into the quicksands.

How many games would a star have to play before he could be properly named?

It is certainly not the player's fault that he can't finish his football work.

To help complicate matters, the waning season has been loaded with stars—such backs as Daley, Bertelli, Davis, Hamburg, Steuber, Kane, Odell, Graham, McCardle, Podesto, Dark, Miller, Hirsch, Prokop, Field and others, from Duke, North Carolina, Purdue, Ohio State, Dartmouth, Washington, etc.

There will be no lack of fine material from which to make selections, but some of these who might belong have only played in one or two big games.

At least all this will help to keep the debaters busy when "the ways are heavy with mire and rut."

The Old Grad had been a trifle dazed all season. Events have had him trying to face three or four directions in the same split second.

For example, we have Minnesota rooters pulling hard for Daley, who helped Michigan wreck Minnesota.

Under such conditions you can't very well blame the Old Grad from feeling just a bit curious in the cupola.

For all of these expected and justified handicaps it has been an interesting season and there are still some good games on the docket before the season ends.

About Bob Odell

Miller, Bertelli, Davis and Daley, among others, are all great backs.

Bertelli and Miller have been the most valuable pair of the year.

But Bob Odell, younger brother of the Yale coach, is my pick.

Odell, on the offensive side, is a fine, fast runner and a fine pass receiver.

But in addition, he is the best, or one of the best, blocking backs in the country and one of the hardest, surest tacklers—one of the best defensive men I've seen.

Limits on Sale of Farm-Killed Pork Lifted 90 Days

To help in handling the slaughter and distribution of this year's record hog crop, the War Food Administration on November 7 suspended for a period of 90 days restrictions on the number of pounds of pork and lard made from home-slaughtered hogs that can be sold or given by a farmer to people not living on his farm, it was announced.

For a limited time the number of points required for the purchase of pork will be reduced, the amount depending on the cut or whether a whole carcass is sold. This will enable consumers who wish to obtain a whole or part carcass to have sufficient points for it, as farmers may accept points in advance of the time they are valid for purchase in retail stores, but are still held responsible for collecting and turning them in to the local OPA office.

THERE ARE SMILES THAT—

All down through history and legend, men have started wars, have changed kingdoms, have become heroes, have become villains, have fought, bled and died for the sake of a woman's smile. If they were good men they were made better; if they were bad men they were made worse; if they were healthy men they were made stronger and if they were sick men, they were made better. We have no criticism to make of any woman whether she be the wife of a President or a little ol' gal from the top of the mountain, who steps up alongside of a bed, lays her hand on the brow of a wounded soldier and just smiles.

GREENBANK NEWS

Airplane! Airplane! — Excitement reigned supreme in Greenbank last Thursday afternoon when two Navy training planes circled over the village a time or two and landed in the large Meenau meadow back of the high school building, and then taxied up to the football field. School was being dismissed at the time and children vied with teachers in getting across the field for first-hand information. Old men and housewives hailed passing cars and hurried to the scene—men who had crept at snail's pace and who had been old for years perked up in spirit and trooped across the field like 6-year-olds. But as soon as the fliers got their bearings they were up and away without telling the curious crowd from whence they came or whither they were going—and (I was right there too, Ma!)

Guest Speaker—Rev. C. L. Nisbet of Huntington was the guest speaker at Liberty Presbyterian Church Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights of this week. He is also an outstanding singer and folks of the Greenbank community were glad to have him in their midst.

Hurrah for the Lantzes! — When Fred Lantz leaves for the Navy Sunday, he will be the 5th son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lantz to enter the service of his country. Earl is with the Army in New Guinea; Blackie is with the Army in Panama; Raymond is with the Coast Guards in California, and "Jap" is with the Navy at Key West, Fla.

P.-T. A. Elects—At a recent meeting of the P.-T. A. of Greenbank Graded School officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Russell Crowley; vice president, Mrs. Clarence Sheets; secretary-treasurer, Miss Margaret Lightner. The hot lunch program was discussed, and on Wednesday, November 17, the first hot meal for the year was served to about 300 pupils. The next meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held on the second Wednesday in December.

Celebrate Anniversary — Mr. and Mrs. George Hannah celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on Friday, November 19. Dinner guests for the occasion were Misses Leeta Beard and Nellie Maude Smith.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling of feet and ankles, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

GALL BLADDER

If an individual does considerable belching, has occasional sharp pains in upper right hand side of abdomen, and at times his skin shows a yellow tinge, his, or more often her, physician suspects liver and gall bladder disturbance. He may have tests made of the ability of the liver to filter out poisons or harmful substances from the blood, and an X-ray of the gall bladder to show its shape, presence of stones, and ability to empty its bile into the small intestine.

Dr. Barton

The liver is the largest organ in the body and can lose many of its cells and be damaged to a considerable extent without endangering the life of the individual.

The gall bladder which holds about two ounces of concentrated bile can be distended so that it holds almost a pint of bile diluted with a saline or salt solution.

Generally speaking, as practically two of every three middle-aged or elderly individuals have some disturbance of liver and gall bladder, the need for operation of any kind does not include a large percentage of this number. It is severe pain in the region of the gall bladder, or the intense pain of gall stone colic, caused by a gall stone trying to pass through a small tube or duct, that calls for consideration as to the need for operation.

In the Canadian Medical Association Journal, Dr. L. C. McCabe, Windsor, Ontario, states:

"While I would urge most emphatically the importance of operating early in the course of chronic gall bladder disease, I should like to sound a warning against operating for 'indefinite' symptoms. The individual who has flatulent dyspepsia (indigestion with much gas formation) but gives no history of gall stone colic, or of any attack of pain that might be an acutely obstructed gall bladder, and gives no history of jaundice, is better carried along by medical treatment, not surgery. Even if his gall bladder does not empty or fill completely as shown by X-rays, I would let him go on belching and perform no operation. The belching will rarely be changed by removal of gall bladder because this belching is usually due to overeating, over-drinking, or to emotional disturbances."

The thought then is that belching and pain in the region of the gall bladder should be investigated.

Emotional Factor in Rheumatic Children

Rheumatism receives intensive study in Great Britain because such a large percentage of the population is afflicted. Although the damp climate has much to do with causing and aggravating the symptoms of rheumatism, British physicians give perhaps more thought to the "nervous" or emotional factor in rheumatism than we do here. Of course, all physicians are aware of this factor and of the relation of that nervous ailment chorea (St. Vitus' Dance) to rheumatism.

In the British Medical Journal, Dr. S. Rubbie states that there are two parts to the rheumatic state in childhood—nervousness and infection. Both are present in differing amounts so that it may be impossible in one child to distinguish any nervous instability (or lack of nervous balance) or in another to detect any evidence of infection. In one the emotional factor is most pronounced and infection apparently not present or occurs after the emotional factor is apparently entirely absent.

As to "growing pains," Dr. Rubbie points out that these pains result not from growth of the body but because of some difficulty attending the growth of the personality of the individual, and it is easier to find evidence of nervous instability than of infection in these cases.

Although many physicians believe that infection is present first and causes the disturbances with emotional instability following, Dr. Rubbie states that there is some evidence to prove that the emotional or nervous instability occurs before infection and "probably even provides the ground for the infection."

How can these symptoms be treated? This is done by removing the stresses of the child's home and school life, and by adjusting him to the surroundings best suited to his personality.

The Wrong Time

By R. H. WILKINSON
Associated Newspapers
WNU Features

AT 10:30 on a Thursday night Inspector Les Knox called the apartment of his chief aide, Detective Al Brooks, on the telephone.

"Better barge down here to the office," Knox said without preamble. "Things are stirring."

Less than twenty minutes later Knox and an excited Detective Brooks were bowling along Boylston street in a taxi. They crossed the Fenway and drove out Brookline avenue, turning at length into a narrower and more dimly lighted street. Presently Knox directed the driver to pull up. The two officers climbed out, and the inspector directed the cabbie to wait for them, then led the way back for two blocks in the direction from which they had come.

Mounting the steps to what appeared to be a private dwelling, he pressed the button. The door was opened by a man in his shirt sleeves. Without waiting to be asked, Knox stepped inside, followed by Brooks, and closed the door.

The dim light of the narrow hallway in which they stood revealed their host to be a powerfully built man of about 40 years.

"You're Beech Tomlin, aren't you?" Knox asked. "I've come for the money."

"Money?" Beech Tomlin's eyes narrowed. "If this is a stick-up you're out of luck."

Knox smiled faintly. "Nice acting, Tomlin. But it isn't a stick-up. I'm talking about the money that was in the brown envelope."

For just a moment the big man's eyes wavered. He sneered. "So you're guessin' at it, eh? Well, it wasn't money, see! You can't pull that gag on me, mister. Now get out!"

"Not just yet, Tomlin." Knox's hand came out of his coat pocket, and at sight of the gun which it held, Beech Tomlin blinked. "The jig's up, old boy. There wasn't any envelope, and you know it. No more than there was in New York or Buffalo. Best thing you can do is toss over that counterfeit dough, or add to the stretch you'll do by resisting arrest and continuing to lie."

It seemed an eternity before the big man shrugged his massive shoulders. "O. K. You win. But damned if I can figure out how you caught on."

Two hours later, back in police headquarters, Detective Brooks was expostulating to the desk sergeant. "It was the dangedest thing I ever saw. Les just shoved a gun under this jigger's nose and told him the game was up. And Tomlin agreed that it must be if Les said so. And now we've knuckled one distributor and laid a trap for the others and incidentally broken up the whole ring. Boy, it's the craziest stunt I ever saw pulled."

Inspector Knox laughed. "But not so crazy as it sounds when you know the facts." He leaned forward. "The reason that Tomlin kicked in without a squawk was simply because he couldn't believe that anyone had caught onto their iron-bound alibi. And when I sprang that one on him about the envelope, it was such a shock he believed anything I told him thereafter.

"As usual, before going home tonight I glanced through the evening papers, and in the classified columns of the Express I ran across an advertisement which said a Beech Tomlin had found a brown envelope on Winter street at 4:30 this afternoon, and that anyone who could identify the valuable contents could have it by calling at the address we visited tonight.

"It sounded all right, except for one thing—something that led me to believe Beech Tomlin didn't expect any one to claim the envelope, which, in turn, promoted the idea that such an envelope never existed. Which assumption proved correct, and resulted rather disastrously for the counterfeit gang. At first, friend Tomlin thought I was just a guy trying to collect something by guessing at the contents of the envelope, which made me more sure than ever I was on the right track."

Detective Brooks leaned forward, grinning. "I get it. If the envelope were found at 4:30 in the afternoon, that fact couldn't be published in the evening edition of any Boston paper. Classified ads have to be received several hours before the sheet goes to press."

Knox nodded. "Precisely. It was a first-rate alibi. For if Tomlin were caught with the counterfeit money, he'd say he found it and advertised for the owner, which fact he could prove." He grinned. "They were stymied by one of the infallibility of their alibi."

Fashion Is in Mood for Swank Accessories and Handsome Furs

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THIS is a season when you are supposed to dress up your basic costume with dramatic accessories and stunning fur pieces. If you have been saving a choice bit of fur, thinking that sometime it might be used to trim a suit or fashion a hat, now's the time to hand it over to your furrier or your milliner. Tell her to make you up something fetching in the way of handbag, hat, scarf or muff to wear with your suit or coat, your one-piece dress or your loveliest evening gown.

Don't throw away the tiniest swatch of fur, for even the most insignificant little piece can be fashioned into a cunning bow to wear on the lapel of your cloth coat, or to pin on the pocket of your tweed jacket. If you are clever you can make your own little fur novelties out of tidbits of seal, Persian lamb, mink or gray lamb.

There's lots doing this winter among designers who vie with each other as to who can turn out the most strikingly original ideas in hat and muff or hat and bag sets, and special emphasis is being placed upon the importance of stole-like neckpieces.

Best dressed women regard a stole of choice fur as being a necessary luxury this season, be it of the simple type to wear with one's smart tailleur, or the more elaborate sort for evening wear. Of the latter sort is the exquisite white fox fur which imparts drama to the lovely white gown centered in the illustration. That fashion is in a mood for swank accessories is seen in the hair ornament made of strands of white satiny glass beads. Following the Chinese influence, it is balanced at each side, as if in salute to our ally.

With a gray suit, milady to the left in the picture wears a black scarf fox turban and a stole that converts into a muff. It may be worn as a scarf with the ends forming a muff, or it can be carried as a muff with long stole ends. This scarf-muff novelty, so practical and so wearable, is typical of the clever things being done with fur.

The suit itself is a two-piece of gray wool soft as rabbit's fur. An especially important style message is conveyed in the black silk braid that trims the pocket and front of the five-button high-closing jacket. Chapters could be written in regard to the lavish use of braid trimming, as it appears this season on dresses, hats, bags and coats. Even the cuffs of gloves are braided. You can buy neat little cuff-and-collar sets that are allover braided, which are nice to have in reserve when you need a touch to make an old dress look new.

Ensemble sets of black velvet which are quite the rage this season team "this and that" together in such fascinating "sets" as the huge black velvet bag, hat and gauntlet glove combination pictured in the group. The hat has a lace brim piped in velvet. The bag is enormous, as most bags are this year.

You can do a lot with a little when it comes to even a few inches of black velvet. For instance, you can make a little velvet patch pocket, and in jet beads trace your initial thereon. Display this as a breast pocket on your simple black daytime dress. It is well to have a big velvet bow in your accessory collection, for these bows are worn like a corsage, sometimes with a glittering brooch or clip.

Perfect for dinner and dancing with the new short evening gowns, is the accessory set shown in the inset. The fact that it is in black and white is significant, for again a sudden flair for black and white springs up in fashion circles. The hat is of white fox fur, trimmed with black wings. A black and white fox muff complements the hat.

Braid-Trimmed Hats

Several of the new winter hats bring tidings of braid-trimmed hats. Perfect for wear with tailored clothes is a hat of gray felt as shown above. It is very outstanding because of the fact that it is embossed with black braid, which is big news. The vogue for braid trims is becoming increasingly interesting, some designers are making loads use of braiding this year on everything from dresses and coats to handbags and hats. The high peaked crown of the felted model shows an Asiatic Russian influence.

Lapel Pins Are Made Of Colored Leather

Birds and animals are being copied in miniature done in gay leathers for the newest lapel pins. Birds of paradise are in gold kid trimmed with scallops of green and red and finished off with a single real feather. A flamingo spreads long pink tail feathers, its plumage made of fragments of kid. The parrot is the smartest specimen of all, done in green leather with yellow and red contrasts. This new leather jewelry also includes animals, such as a big white leather circus horse, a toy elephant and so on. Schoolgirls like to wear these on their jackets or at the neckline of their smart long sweater.

Collar and Cuffs Now Get Designers' Attention

Not long since it was pockets that were featured as the center of attraction in coat dress and blouse styling. But if you will take sharp note as you saunter through fashion displays you will observe that it is collar and cuffs upon which designers are now focusing their creative genius. It will be interesting to keep tab on this movement. A dress, for instance, will be seen trimming except for glittering sequin collar and cuffs. How fun, are the bracelet cuffs and cuff sets.

Lace-Trimmed Calots

Both small and bejeweled velvet hats are enchantingly trimmed with lace that tones beautifully to gala occasion. These black velvet fashions are most alluring and the tiny calot and breton types with their mantilla like lace drapes or halo style of sheerest Chantilly are most alluring.

Lesson for November 28

TRUTHFULNESS AT ALL TIMES

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:16; 23:1, 7; Matthew 5:33-37; John 8:42-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor; for we are members one of another.—Ephesians 4:25.

God hates all kinds of dishonesty—a fact which is emphasized by the additional commandment regarding truthfulness which is before us in this lesson.

God is truth, that is, the very essence of His nature is truth. In Him is no darkness at all (I John 1:5). Lying or false witness therefore reveals a character opposite to God. Hence we are not surprised to find in our lesson that Satan is a liar and the father of lies, and that liars are his children.

I. The Nature of a Lie (Exod. 20:16; 23:1, 7).

The commandment against false witness brings before us one form of lying—for it has to do with perjury. But it, the telling of an untruth in court.

This is one of the worst forms of lying, because it may result in the one against whom it is practiced losing his liberty, his life or his property. It may mean the destruction of his good reputation.

It is obvious, however, that the commandment covers all forms of lying, whether in business, in social contacts, in the home, or in the church. We might do well to consider what the Bible has to say about whisperers, talebearers, backbiters, and others (see Lev. 19:16; II Cor. 12:20). A man's reputation may be as easily ruined by a whispered lie over the back fence or the luncheon table as by formal perjury in the courtroom. "Thou shalt not bear false witness" at any time, anywhere, or in any way.

II. The Practice of Lying (Matt. 5:33-37).

The people of our Lord's day (and who can say that the custom has stopped) were in the habit of telling lies and then trying to make others believe them by an oath.

They would swear by heaven, or the throne of God, or some other sacred thing, and thus try to enforce their false word by some great authority.

The liar is always under necessity of doing something—perhaps telling another lie—to cover his falsehood. When his comfort or advantage seems to be endangered because he is not believed, he brings an oath to bear upon his statement.

Jesus taught the great virtue of simple living and simple speech. A plain "yes" or "no" is usually sufficient for the situation. Qualifying words are apt to lead us astray. The life of a Christian should be so true and above board that no oath should be needed to assure one of his sincerity and honesty.

Since not all are Christians, it is a necessity that men be placed under some kind of oath or affirmation in judicial matters. Hence we need not interpret this Scripture as forbidding an oath in court.

It may be well to say a word about swearing in general. It is all too common among men, women and children. No Christian should ever be guilty of it, or that which sounds like it. We need admonition and correction at that point.

III. The Source of All Lies (John 8:42-45).

The devil is a liar, and the father of lies. Liars are members of his family. Jesus said it, "Ye are of your father the devil."

Liars had better consider their "family tree" and see how they like their spiritual father. He is lustful, murderous, and there is no truth in him (v. 44). If you belong to that family would you not like to change families and be born again into God's family?

Sadly enough the constant lying of the world seems to have infected the minds and hearts of Christians. Instead of being cleansed from this worldly defilement they carry its awful tendencies into the church. Is it not too true that gossip (which is almost always lying), false witness, the tearing down of someone's good name, is all too common in the church?

The great lie within the church, and one of Satan's prize exhibits, is the falsehood of modern religious liberalism (so-called) which is essentially a denial of real New Testament Christianity. Jesus said (v. 42) that if God is our Father we will accept Him as the Christ. The one who speaks sweet words about the example, the manhood, the leadership of the Master and who denies His true place as God is clearly in mind here as a follower of the father of lies.

Note that in verses 45-47 Jesus challenges His enemies to convict Him of sin or of falsehood. No one has ever been able to meet that challenge.

The claims he made for Himself as the Son of God and the Saviour of the world are plain and unmistakable. If we deny them we either make Jesus a liar, or we lie ourselves, and it is obvious that the latter is the case.

Groceryman Won Just Standing True to Form

The village superintendent who was also an air-raid warden, standing was very proud of the fact that his photograph had been published in the local newspaper.

While he was standing in front of his customers, a rather feeble old lady, he fancied a certain lack of appreciation on their part, and said apologetically, "Of course, it's not a very good picture, I'm out of focus."

"Yes," the old lady replied with a grim smile, "you're always out of something. You were out of string beans yesterday."

When armored knights met it was customary for each party to raise the visor of his helmet by means of mechanism. This figure has come down through the armies in the form of the salute. Traditional, too, is the hand sign's preference for Canal crossings. With men in the Army, Navy, marines, and Coast Guard, sales records in their service stores show that Camel is the favorite. It's one of the best gifts with service men. And there are Post Office instructions on packages to overseas forces men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.

Aid From Switzerland

For months, Switzerland has been sending materials needed in the war effort to the United States in exchange for food, all of these exports and imports being transported on vessels of Swiss registry through the port of Genoa, says Collier's. Axis countries have not been able to stop the practice because of Switzerland's threat to blow up her three tunnels, whose rail facilities are the life lines between Germany and Italy.

Deer Hunters Asked to Give Hides for Charity

With the opening of the season on Monday, it has been announced that the U. S. Forest Service in the collection of deer hides. The successful hunters are requested to turn over to the government. Buckskin is needed by the armed forces to be used in the manufacture of gloves. These gloves are the main soft and pliable ones that are treated soakings in water, making them the most desirable type of glove for many purposes. Therefore, hides in to the collection centers will not only the patriotic duty of the lucky hunters, but it is necessary under an order of the War Production Board, which is as follows:

"No deerskins may be used for other than military purposes. It is illegal for hunters to keep skins from deer legally killed."

The deer should be skinned carefully and the hides should be taken to any of the deer checking stations in the county, where the game wardens will pick them up. Deer checking stations are identified by red, white and black checkered flag.

Farmers Must File Estimate Of 1943 Income by Dec. 15

Many farmers who have never filed an income tax report before will have to do so this year, reminds Dr. A. B. Goth, Extension economist at West Virginia University. Reports must be made on Internal Revenue Form 1040ES which may be obtained from the collector of Internal Revenue, Goth explains.

A declaration of the estimated income must be filed on or before December 15 by single, or married farmers not living with husband or wife, who expect a gross income of $500 or more during the year, and by married farmers living with husband or wife who expect a gross income of $624 or more during the calendar year 1943 is due on or before March 15, 1944.

Mr. Goth emphasizes that a return must be filed if the gross income is expected to reach the specified amount even though subsequent deductions mean that no tax is due. The farmer counts as gross income all receipts from farm and from miscellaneous sources, including the value of merchandise received in exchange for farm products or services rendered. To be considered as a farmer, however, 80 per cent of the gross income must be derived from the farm.

...not words

WE IN AMERICA have a lot to be thankful for this year. This is the one great nation that has not been laid waste by war.

Our boys are fighting in the jungles of the South Seas and in the villages of Italy that our own Main Streets may not become battle fields. By their sacrifices they have held the warfront thousands of miles beyond our shoreline. They deserve our deepest gratitude—a gratitude we should express in work rather than in words.

Let's back up these fighting men in a very practical way. Today there is a great shortage of pulpwood. Pulpwood has a thousand-and-one war uses—from explosives to shipping containers.

And since this is a pulpwood-cutting community, we have been asked to cut an extra cord of pulpwood in honor of every local boy in service.

This is a small thing to ask of us—small in comparison with what our boys are doing. One extra cord for every boy who went to war from the pulpwood areas will be enough to meet the present shortage.

So let's resolve to meet our quota —and make sure that no boy dies because we failed.

IT Impresses ME

THIS editor has been used as a threat to make children behave in a great many instances . . . but over at the Jack Richardsons there is a sweet blonde little three-year-old named Jacqueline, upon whom I am an influence of a different sort . . . We share a mutual affection . . . She has been known to wake up in the night whimpering for "Aubrey," and when she comes to town her mother can always get perfect obedience by saying "I'll take you in to see Aubrey," and when she smeared her nails and lips with forbidden cosmetics it was brought off immediately by the admonition that "Aubrey doesn't like girls who wear cosmetics" . . . Triumph! . . . But last week was the great event and cause for mother's vacation . . . Finding Jacqueline in the process of putting an awful lot of unintelligible scribbling on the nice clean dining room wall, mother asked "Why?" . . . And received the answer that it was to be interpreted, "Dear love Aubrey . . . I thank you for the muff, etc. etc." . . . See how even small girls remember Christmas when it gets near Santa Claus time?

AND was I made to feel my age the other day, when coming out of the house to get into my car, I challenged three-year-old Jimmy Williams with, "Good morning, Jimmy, how are you?" . . . And he answered, "How you, Bo?" . . .

MOVING is such fun . . . and such slow work . . . One does swell until he comes to that box of old photographs and negatives, and then he makes a motion which is quickly seconded and passed without dissent to sit down and look through the bunch . . . "There is that picture you took of me standing at the side of the car on our first trip . . . Ducky, eh, with feet on running board, and a 'this-is-mine' look on my face" . . . "And look, here are the before-and-after pictures when I took the bar-bell weight lifters' course and grew out of all my clothes" . . . (And now, after our relapse, we look about like the "before" picture again) . . . "And my but you look sweet standing there in that snowball bush clasping a clump of the posies up to your bosom!" . . . And so on, and back to work again . . . until . . . we come to that box of books that been stored away for years . . . You know, some day I must read some of those books that I bought from all those salesmen everyone of whom said to me when I let him in that he was not trying to sell me anything—he just wanted to show me . . . And as a result I have become possessor of everything from a Literary Digest Encyclopedia to a book called "Spunk."

"ENGAGING" . . . That's what I said after a nice long conversation with Miss Eleanor Coburn the Southern-accent lady who's a guest at beautiful Wylie Manor . . .

"Smith" Not "Common" Name In Present World War

"The Smiths" have shot down 71 Japanese planes in the Southwest Pacific.

The Fifth Air Force list giving official credit for destruction of enemy aircraft includes the names of 32 officers and men of that well known family who have destroyed or participated in the destruction of from one to seven Japanese planes.

First Lieut. Richard E. Smith (1014 S. Harlem Ave., Evansville, Ind.), a fighter pilot, is the top scoring Smith. He has shot down seven Japanese planes.

First Lieut. Cornelius M. Smith (10-70 Ninth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.), another fighter pilot, has shot down three enemy planes, and First Lieut. Marlin R. Smith (Linthicum Heights, Md.) has shot down two.

One Japanese plane has been shot down by each of the following Smith fighter pilots: 2nd Lt. Earl W. Smith (1830 Walnut St., Berkely, Calif.); 2nd Lt. Paul Smith (no address available here); Capt. Lawrence P. Smith (1093 Main St., Waltham, Mass.); and Capt. Robert C. Smith (Madison, Florida).

Among the Smiths in bomber crews, Staff Sergeant Thomas R. Smith (278 Milwood St., Brooklyn, N. Y.) is officially credited with having participated in the destruction of five enemy planes.

2nd Lieut. Charles E. Smith (St. Cloud, Florida), and Tech. Sgt. Shirley E. Smith (Hope Mills, N. C.) have been at the guns of their bombers when four enemy planes were destroyed.

Three Japanese planes have been shot down by bombers in which the following Smiths have been at the guns: 1st Lieut. Charles L. Smith (790 East Main St., Spartanburg, N. C.); Cpls. George W. Smith (Montello, Wis.); 2nd Lieut. John T. Smith (no address available here); 1st Lieut. Kenneth G. Smith (R F D 3, Great Bend, Kansas; Sgt. Marian E. Smith (no address available here); Capt. Robert N. Smith (91 Emery St., Portland, Maine); Sgt. Robert S. Smith (3009 Rugen St., Dallas, Tex.); 2nd Lieut. Russell L. Smith, Jr. (38 Forest Ave., Palo Alto, Calif.), and Major William A. Smith (309 Current Ave., Opelousas, Miss.).

Five Smiths have been at the guns of bombers when two Japanese planes were destroyed. Such Sgt. Eugene [illegible] Smith (Darling Ave., Kingsport, Tenn.); 1st Sgt. Silas H. Smith (Rt. 1, Dallas, Ga.); Sgt. Raymond [illegible] Smith (Lake St., Robinson, N. J.); 1st Lieut. Roland S. Smith (702 North Bonnie Brae, Los Angeles, Calif.); and Major Zed S. Smith III (Marlinton, West Virginia).

One Japanese plane has been shot down by bombers in which the following Smiths have been crew members: Staff Sgt. Billie H. Smith, Jr. (17 East 5th St., Jacksonville, Fla.); 1st Lieut. Charles S. Smith, Jr. (405 Cattell St., Easton, Pa.); Staff Sgt. George W. Smith, Jr. (717 South York St., Gastonia, N. C.); 1st Lieut. Havilland Van L. Smith (Daytona Beach, Fla.); 1st Lieut Wayne R. Smith (415 W. Lomita Ave, Glendale, Calif.); Pvt William R. Smith (no address available here); Sgt. Oscar N. Smith (Knott, Tex.), and Corp. Selby L. Smith (100 Plum St., Westerville, Ohio).

Miss Esther Grace Henry Lieut. Wm. McNeil Wed

Miss Esther Grace Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Henry, of Clarksburg, became the bride of Lieut. William R. McNeil, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McNeil, of Marlinton, on Thanksgiving Day at 2 o'clock, in the parsonage of the Methodist Church at Wilmington, N. C., with the Rev. C. D. Darcliff officiating. A double ring ceremony was read.

The bride wore a white jersey dress with black accessories.

Mrs. McNeil is a graduate of Washington Irving High School of Clarksburg, and of the Simbley Memorial Hospital of Washington, D. C. Prior to her marriage the bride was employed as office nurse by a doctor at Mt. Ranier, Md. At her home city of Clarksburg she was active in church and civic affair, and took a leading part in the work of the Kappa Sigma Pi, the annual Youth Retreat held at Jackson's Mill, and dramatic presentations.

Lieut. McNeil graduated from Marlinton High School and obtained an A. B. degree at oCnord State College. He has served with the forces of the U. S. Army for more than a year, and at present is stationed at Camp Davis, N. C., where they will make their home.

LEAVE FOR NAVY

Glenn Philip Dean, P. 1., Mullenax, Isaac Wainright, H. E. Waugh, A. G. Woodell, F. Lantz and Reed W. Dilley left this county on Sunday for service in the U. S. Navy.

Fire Destroys Two Dwellings

An early morning fire last Friday razed two homes on Fifth Avenue in Marlinton.

The conflagration started in a home owned by Mrs. Shannon Mccomb, which was occupied by the Ira Hannah family, about 4 a. m., and completely destroyed the home. Flames spread to the home of Brown Simmerman, next door, which was so severely damaged that only a shell of the structure remained.

Chief Paul Overbolt and members of the Marlinton Volunteer Fire Department brought the flames under control.

All contents of the dwellings were destroyed. The Simmerman home was insured.

Mower Store To Sponsor Party

The Mower Lumber Co.'s Store at Cass will sponsor a "Get-Acquainted" party Tuesday and Tuesday night, December 7, to enable residents of the section to meet the new store manager, H. H. Thompson, and his family.

The store will be gaily decorated in Christmas holiday fashion, and a feature of the occasion will be the drawing for War Bond door prizes which will take place at 8:30 Tuesday night. Three War Bonds in the amounts of $100, $50 and $25 will be given away.

Mr. Thompson succeeds R. L. Wright now of the U. S Navy, as manager of the Mower Store. He is a former resident of Clarksburg.

Everyone is extended a cordial invitation to visit the store Tuesday, and to participate in the drawing.

Pocahontas Is Mecca For Deer Hunters

The population of this mountain county experienced its annual upsurge this week with the influx of hundreds of sportsmen, who are here for the deer hunting season.

Clothed in the traditional gay plaids and water-proof khakis the visiting nimrods have taken about all available room space in county towns, and almost every farm home has its full quota. Hotels have had maximum reservations for several days.

From all reports and observations, the chances for a kill should be very good. Farmers and others who have been traversing the county's highways have reported seeing numerous deer, with numbers ranging from individual does and bucks all the way up to herds of fourteen.

Last week's bow and arrow season at Watoga State Park, this county, did not result in a single kill for the archery experts, although they are reported by park officials to have had several shots at the fleet animals. Twenty-five persons participated in the attempts at Watoga.

Neighborhood Farm Bureau Meetings To Be Held Next Week

Next week, beginning Monday, December 6, and ending Friday, December 11, there will be held 14 Farm Bureau neighborhood meetings in this county. An interesting and worthwhile program has been prepared for each one of these meetings and all farmers and their families are invited and urged to attend, says Z. S. Smith, chairman of the county membership program.

These neighborhood meetings are important and they are being held in each of our county's neighborhoods so that all interested farmers may attend. Mr. Smith points out that at this time of year most of the general farm work is out of the way and these meetings provide an excellent opportunity for farmers and their families to get together for two or three hours to discuss and talk over some of their common problems.

"My observation leads me to believe," says Mr. Smith, "that the word organization is synonymous with the word "progress." This statement, I think, applies with particular force in evaluating what has been accomplished by farm organization. It is impossible to over-estimate the benefits that have and that can be accomplished by well-planned farm organization, based on cooperative intelligent effort."

Our State Farm Bureau slogan is, "We Pull the Most When We Pull Together," and each farmer in the county is urged to join the Farm Bureau for 1944. Mr. Smith asks all the neighborhood chairmen and vice chairmen not to be satisfied with just reaching the goal of 315 members set at the county meeting held a few weeks ago, but to surpass that number by a wide margin.

Neighborhoods which will hold Farm Bureau meetings are:

Labelia—Church, December 6, 7:30; G. A. Hull, chairman.

Beard—Locust Creek Church, December 6, 7:30; Remus May, chairman.

Hillsboro—High School, December 6, 7:30; Joel P. Beard, chairman.

THE SIN OF COVETOUSNESS

Luke 12:13-21; 16:19-31; I Tim. 6:6-10.

The Ten Commandments—the last one of which we study today—are characterized by their brevity, their comprehensiveness, their all of life, and finality to the right. But they are also unique and different from all other laws in that they reach into the inner recesses of a man's heart, a realm where only God can judge and act.

This last commandment forbids covetousness—the desire that which belongs to another—is a sin. It has become one of the "respectable sins" accepted in the best circles and practiced by many church people.

As a matter of fact, this sin underlies all the other sins against which the commandments speak. He who has a love for money and an evil desire to have his neighbor's possessions will hate, lie, steal, cheat, kill, in fact, as Dr. Morgan says, "The whole realm of human interrelations is disorganized and broken up by the dishonoring of the tenth commandment."

If you have become a lover of money, or one who longs to have what your friends own, beware. You are in real danger.

II. The Result — A Ruined Life (Luke 12: 13-21)

To have such a spirit makes a man greedy (v. 15), callous and selfish (vv. 17-19), and foolish (v. 20), both regarding this life and that which is to come.

The yardstick of success in the world—for an individual, an organization, or a nation, yes, even for many a church—is the possession of wealth, or property, or other "things." Write it in large letters on the hearts and minds of our boys and girls, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (v. 15).

The one who was known to his friends (and to himself) as "a rich man" (v. 16), but whom God knew as a "fool" (v. 20), had more than he could use for himself. He had to build new and bigger barns, and could not see the "barns" that were already prepared, for, as Ambrose says, "Thou hast barns—the bosoms of the needy, the houses of widows, the mouths of orphans and infants."

He was a fool who loved money for himself. One wonders what he had to say for himself when that very night he was called into the presence of God to give an account of his stewardship (v. 20). If you are similarly situated and have the same attitude, what will you say in that day?

An important point which we must note is that Jesus expressly repudiated the connecting of His name with the so-called "social gospel" in His reply (v. 14).

III. The Cure—Trust in God (Luke 12:22-25).

Because covetousness destroys the best in life, we ought to shun it like poison. The best antidote for covetousness if we have been poisoned by it is to go all-out in our trust and confidence in God.

We who are children of God are to take no anxious thought for the morrow. This does not forbid proper preparation and forethought, but it does rule out fretful anxiety. The reasons are very clear and cogent.

First of all, while food and clothing are important, they are not of first importance. The vital thing is that one have life. Otherwise things are useless (v. 23). We must keep our sense of proportion, of relative values.

Then too, God is the One who must care for every one of us. And He does care for us! Why not trust Him? He cares for all creation; can He not care for you? If then you trust the all-powerful One, what occasion is there for worry, or covetousness?

And finally comes the devastating argument. Worry never accomplished anything. Anxiety does not help anyone, anytime, anywhere. So why be anxious?

It is clear then that a desire for that which belongs to others is a sin which destroys man's happiness and usefulness. It is needless as is all anxiety—because only God can provide, and He will provide if we trust Him.

Life becomes simple, practical, joyful, confident, yea, truly Christian, when we get our eyes off things and on the Lord.

THIS community has every right to be proud of the way it is meeting the appeal for more pulpwood. We are proving that we can get out the wood. Now let's keep it coming!

This war isn't won yet—not by a long shot. Our boys will be fighting for quite a while. They will be needing ammunition, food, medical supplies—and all these things that are shipped in paperboard containers are made from pulpwood.

Pulpwood is our wartime job. Pulpwood can still be a bottleneck, holding up America's war effort. Our responsibility is to see that it does not. No boy shall die because we have failed.

CORRECT PELT HANDLING MEANS BETTER PRICES!

It is our responsibility to make full use of, and get maximum value from, the natural resources at our disposal. The pelt American fur crop provides a source of income to those in all parts of the country who are interested in harvesting it.

If FURS are worth trapping at all, certainly they are worth the time and effort needed to prepare them properly, so that they will bring you maximum cash returns!

The mink and skunk pelts shown give eloquent testimony to this creed. The fact that the correctly handled ones brought from $1.00 to $7.50 more per pelt than the incorrectly prepared ones, indicates that careful pelt handling pays.

By taking the pains to follow pelt handling standards, you are preparing the goods you have to sell in the manner in which the user prefers. It is easier for him to make up uniform lots when all pelts are shaped correctly. Thus, you are following the standards preferred by your customer—the manufacturer of fur garments. By doing that, you aim at TOP prices for your skins!

At the same time, you are protecting your pelts from spoiling. Insufficiently dried skins, or those upon which too much fat is left, are likely to reach the market in a tainted condition. Naturally, such furs bring considerably less money.

Homer "Flash" Gordon of Marlinton was home on leave last week, following the completion of his naval "boot" training.

. . . a way to know folks in South Africa

Sit down, make yourself at home, says the hospitable South African to the visiting American. Have a "Coke", says his guest, and he's understood at once. It's a phrase that says, Welcome, neighbor, from Capetown to Cape Cod. The world over, Coca-Cola is the symbol of the pause that refreshes,—the happy meeting ground for friendly-minded strangers.

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus duld, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

The DAY that will live forever in infamy

IT IS just two years since America stood stunned at the unbelievable treachery of that sneak attack.

Things looked mighty black for us two years ago. They look a lot brighter now. Today our rebuilt navy—far more powerful than before; our vast air force; and our mechanized army are relentlessly forcing our enemies back on battle-fronts the world's width apart.

Yes, we've come a long way—but the war isn't won yet. There's many a bitter battle yet to be fought.

And there's a production battle right here at home that isn't won yet, either. So long as the fighting goes on over there, there will be no lessening in the demand for pulpwood here.

The Victory Pulpwood Campaign is beginning to succeed. It showed what can be accomplished when America really rolls up its sleeves.

Let's keep the axes swinging!

Let's see this job through!

Mr. Aubrey E. Ferguson,
Soon-to-Be Fighter,
Marlinton, W. Va.

DEAR "REV.":

I DIDN'T suppose a guy
WHO IS an editor, printer
AND PREACHER all in one
WOULD BE drafted.
BUT I hear
YOU'RE ON your way
IN A few days
SO HAVE a good time
AND CONVERT the army
WHILE YOU'RE away—
I'D BEEN told
A NEWSPAPER was important
TO A community's morale
AND IN a case like your's
WHERE YOU'RE
THE WHOLE show
IT DOES look as if
THAT WOULD have BEEN CONSIDERED
BUT I know nothing
BEFORE YOU were drafted
OF THE workings
OF DRAFT boards
AND IT'S possible
THE MEMBERS of the board
TOOK A look at Alma
AND DECIDED maybe she COULD GET out
A BETTER newspaper
THAN YOU could
AND NOW she's going
TO GET that opportunity—
I DON'T blame you
FOR CLOSING up the shop
AND ARRANGING to get
THE PAPER printed elsewhere
BECAUSE THE kind of printers
YOU COULD get today
MIGHT LEAVE the place
IN SUCH a mess

Tax Collectors Will Aid Farmers In Filing Returns

F. Roy Yoke, United States Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of West Virginia, today announced that deputy collectors will be at the Alpine Hotel in Marlinton, West Virginia, on December 14, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5:00 P. M., and on December 15, between the hours of 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. to assist taxpayers in the preparation of Declaration of Estimated Income and Victory Tax Returns due to be filed not later than December 15, 1943, as required by the Current Tax Payment Act.

The filing of a Declaration not later than December 15 is required of the following:

1. Farmers who have sufficient income to require filing—(See 3-a)—and have postponed filing under the special provisions of law which permit farmers to wait as late as December 15.

(A farmer is one who derives at least 80 per cent of his gross income from the operation of a stock, dairy, poultry, fruit or truck farm, or plantation, ranch, nursery, range or orchard.)

2. Persons who did file in September but underestimated their tax by more than 20 per cent and who should therefore, file "amended declarations" to avoid penalties. (These returns should be marked "AMENDED" at the top of the form for the purpose of ready identificatioin.)

3. Persons who did not file in September because their estimated income at that time was insufficient to require filing but now come within any one of the following classes:

(a) Anyone who expects to have during the calendar year 1943 more than $100 gross income from a source outside of wages which are subject to withholding and who also expects sufficient gross income to require filing an income tax return ($500 for a single person, $1,200 for a married couple, or $624 for an individual married person).

(b) Any single person expecting wages of more than $2,700 during the year.

(c) Any married person or any married couple expecting individually or together more than $3,500 from wages during the year.

(d) Any person who was required to file an income tax return for 1942 and who expects his wages in 1943 to be less than in 1942.

Taxpayers who filed declarations in September and paid one-half of the tax estimated to be due will receive bills from Collector Yoke for the balance due on or about December 1. Should any in this group ascertain that their previous estimate and computation of tax has been overstated, an amended declaration reducing the tax can also be filed. It should be accompanied by the bill and a remittance for any revised amount due.

Failure to meet the requirements of the Current Tax Payment Act will subject taxpayers to severe penalties.

Troop Movement Job Equals 46 World Trips for Every Person In Pocahontas County

Taking all of Pocahontas County's 13,000 people around the world in sleeping cars nearly 46 times would be a tremendous undertaking, yet that is virtually about the size of the troop movement job reported today by The Pullman Company.

Since Pearl Harbor, Pullman has carried about 34,000,000 troops a distance of more than 15 billion passenger miles in its sleeping cars, the company reports. These figures are said to cover mass military movements alone, and do not include the hundreds of furloughed men and others.

Many of the boys from Pocahontas County, like servicemen from all parts of the country, are getting their first Pullman rides, according to George A. Kelly, vice president of the company. Now most of them are making the return trips by Pullman, as the intensive training programs of the armed services necessitates that many return or more prior to embarkation for points abroad, he said. In addition the army and navy believe in all the comfort possible for the members of the armed forces, he declared, and since hundreds of all military movements to and are by Pullman sleeper.

Pullman is now carrying more than service troops every month, in some instances, it is revealed by Mr. Kelly, who pointed out that in addition to the heavy and steadily increasing military passenger burden, civilians travel itself in alm of a record-breaking ... Mr. Kelly said that Pullman's passenger-mile volume for 1943 may exceed the 1942 all-time high of 20 billion by 30 or more per cent.

"The soldiers and civilian passenger loyalties of Pullman and the railroads today is no longer," Kelly said. "Just Once is unfortunately little memories left for some of the servicemen who returned to peacetime. Many, today in wartime service, and by their understanding and tolerance of this fact, travelers can help us greatly in the performance of our vital job."

Preston Educator Will Seek Post of State School Head

Announcement was made this week that Kenneth W. Shaffer, of Kingwood, superintendent of Preston County schools, would seek the Republican nomination for state superintendent of schools in the primary election on May 9, 1944.

Mr. Shaffer has lived and worked in Preston, Harrison, Barbour, Monongalia and Hampshire Counties, where he has worked at various times in lumbering, farming, glass factory, machine shop activities and has worked progressively from a teacher in a one-room school in Barbour County through the stages of high school teacher and coach, elementary and high school principal, assistant and county superintendent.

He has been active in professional, religious and civic organization. He is a member of the Methodist Church, Rotary Club, Masonic and Knights of Pythian Lodges, Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, life member—National Education Association, State Education Association and West Virginia Association of School Superintendents, and has served as past president of Preston County Education Association and West Virginia Association of School Superintendents; served the State Education Association in the capacity of chairman, committee on equal opportunity for three years, and now serving as chairman of the legislative committee; chairman, Superintendents' Association committee to study administrative and supervisory practices in West Virginia, and member N. E. A. committee on equal opportunity; Sunday school superintendent—Kingwood Methodist Church ,and past president Kingwood Rotary Club.

Mr. Shaffer has announced that he favors the following objectives for West Virginia:

1. Stronger and more economical county school systems with less state and federal control.

2. Thorough and improved public education and health opportunities for all school children and youth.

3. Adequate vocational education for youth, war veterans and others.

4. Adequate public library, health, safety and recreation facilities.

5. Greater participation of parents in planning the educational program.

In making his decision to seek the nomination for the state office, Mr

Crop and Feed Loans Are Now Available

Pointing out the desirability of purchasing fertilizer and other supplies for this crop well in advance of the planting season, Field Superintendent R. E. Herbert of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Elkins has announced that he is now accepting applications for crop and feed loans for spring planting.

Crop loans are secured by a first lien on the crops to be produced and feed loans by a chattel mortgage on the livestock to be fed. The interest rate is 4 per cent per year. Farmers who wish to apply may communicate with Field Superviser Herbert at Box 367, Elkins, West Virginia, who will arrange to accept their applications.

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for December 12

CHRIST'S NEW COMMANDMENT

LESSON TEXT—John 13:31-35; 15:9-14.

GOLDEN TEXT—A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.—John 13:34.

The "new commandment" was one which Christ gave with such a fit the words of this text being known, but John 13:34 is the appropriate Golden Text. Only when Christ had given all was there love to love in truth.

This commandment of love was also that to which great emphasis was given by the Lord Jesus in the Upper Room. Love, by its very nature, is the fundamental of all spiritual life, the first principle subject to know, that God is Love.

It also emphasizes the fact that love is the basis of all true fellowship. It is the basis of all spiritual life, and love for one another is the first and last fruits which follow upon Regeneration when the Holy Spirit comes to live in the heart. Love must be expressed if it is to be known. (1 John 4:7-12).

Our lesson teaches us four things:

I. Love God (Mark 12:30).

Because "God is love" (1 John 4:8) He desires man's perfect love toward Him. Because the source of this terms is love, He loves us, and teaches us to love Him.

There is more here than a commandment or the performance of a duty. There is the response of a heart overflowing gratefully at the fact of redemption through the power of the cross, and the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. Love is the response of a heart which knows that it is loved. Love is the response of a heart which knows that it is loved. Love is the response of a heart which knows that it is loved. Love is the response of a heart which knows that it is loved.

II. Love Your Neighbor (Mark 12:31-34).

Everything about our relationship to Christ and to God expresses itself in our living. No spiritual truth is simply to be observed or kept as a creed as a cherished possession. It is to be put to work in the affairs of life.

Love for God means love for our neighbor. If we do not love our neighbor (and that means our fellow man—Luke 10:25-42) how then does the love of God abide in our hearts?

It is worthy of note that the recognition and appreciation of this truth on the part of the scribe brought him near to the kingdom of God, but not into it. He was "not far from," but he was not in it. It is terrifying to think how close men may come to entering without doing so. Reader, have you entered into eternal life through Jesus Christ?

III. Love Your Brethren (John 13:34, 35).

Here we come within the circle of believers and see that the distinctive thing about their fellowship should be love for one another.

The old commandment of love becomes a new one because Christ shows that the measure of that love is to be His great love for us. How did Christ love us? With a perfect, unselfish and thoughtful devotion, which so deeply desired the very most and best for us that He was willing to lay down His holy life as our Saviour from sin.

The thing which marked the early church with glorious distinction was that in a world that hated, they loved one another, and in a world that killed and destroyed, they were even willing to die for their brethren. Tertullian of Carthage (Tunis) said, in the second century, that the enemies of Christianity said of the Christians, "See how they love one another."

IV. Love is Obedient, Joyful and Sacrificial (John 15:10-14).

Love is not an impulsive, erratic movement of man's nature which tries to make up for neglect and unkindness by occasional displays of generosity and thoughtfulness. No indeed. Love walks the straight and steady way of obedience to God's commandments.

Keeping God's law is not accomplished by reading it, or talking about it, or even learning it by heart, but by definitely practicing its precepts.

This brings joy into our lives—the real and perfect joy of Christ. How little we appreciate what this means. Our fellowship with the Lord calls for obedience and sacrifice, but that is not a burdensome, dull, distressing experience. It is a joyful one. Who counts it a trial to do that which pleases a loved one? Do we really love God? Then we will rejoice in our response to His will, yes, in any possible act of devotion.

Love draws no limiting line beyond which it will not go. Love says: "I count not my life dear, if in giving it I may bring deliverance to my friends."

We shall not question His guidance nor blush to own His name, even though the testimony may mean our death. This we shall do for Christ's sake, and for the sake of a suffering humanity.

Top 4-H'ers In West Virginia

Win Trip to National Club Congress, Chicago

OUTSTANDING records of achievement in 4-H wartime production and conservation projects, conducted by the Extension Service, have won state championship honors for five West Virginia club members. As a reward, each will receive an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28-Dec. 1. The five trip winners are:

KATHLEEN REEDER, 21, of Alexander, is the state's highest scoring participant in the 1943 National 4-H Canning Achievement contest for which Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp. provides the awards. During 6 years in club work, the girl put up 612 quarts of meats, vegetables, fruits, soups and jellies, and won many placings on her exhibits.

RUTH WOODS, 20, of Moundsville, receives the Montgomery Ward trip award for her "all around" 4-H girls' record. During 11 years in club work she sewed and remodeled 54 garments, baked 42 batches of breads and pastries, made 43 home improvement articles, and planted 1,200 trees in a forestry project, as well as completed 15 projects, and served 5 years as club president.

NORMA COCKERILL, 17, of Buckhannon, receives her award from American Viscose Corp. for having the top ranking record of planning, selecting, constructing, assembling and caring for her wartime wardrobe in the National 4-H Victory Dress Revue. This program encourages participants to dress appropriately, healthfully and economically for all occasions.

MARY FOWLER, 18, of Point Pleasant, is given the Chicago trip by the Educational Division of the Appalachian Electric Power Co. for her superior record in the current National 4-H Canning Achievement contest. The girl made over a hundred jars of her own and family's old garments to help meet vitally needed new cloth and labor for military uses, as well as crocheted and knitted accessories for her wardrobe.

GOLDA McCLUNG, 16, of Carl, state winner in the National 4-H Food Preparation contest, is rewarded with the coveted trip by Swift and Company. She contributed immeasurably to the war program by putting the greatest possible use of home-produced food, and preparing 65 nutritious, balanced wholesome meals, including 12 varieties of bakings for her family.

Twenty-nine college scholarships, totaling $5,800, provided by the same donors, are awarded the national winners in the above contests.

SUPERMEN
—the morning after

(Drawn from actual photograph)

THESE captured members of The Master Race are bitter and broken in spirit.

Hypnotized by promises of power and glory, they gave up every human freedom to follow a fanatic paperhanger.

They fell upon the world and almost crushed it. But not quite. The "decadent" democracies rallied around the banner of liberty. Free peoples applied the dynamics of free enterprise to the grim business of war—and accomplished production miracles.

The sullen slaves of the swastika have come up against a force they cannot master or comprehend.

It is independence—the common heritage of Americans. Freedom of religion, speech, thought and individual enterprise. The right and opportunity of every American, within reasonable limits, to enjoy the rewards that his own work may bring.

This is the force that made America great. It is devoted today to the needs of all-out war. It must not be lost when the war is won.

An albino deer, six-point buck, weight 150 pounds, was killed by Verle Fyle of Dump Mountain last week. The deer was almost pure white.

R. J. Funkhouser Featured In Magazines

Announcing a feature story on Raymond J. Funkhouser, which appeared last week, the Saturday Evening Post magazine said this to say about the West Virginia business man-farmer:

"West Virginia Republicans last year woke with a start the day after election to find they had come within a handful of votes of nominating Raymond J. Funkhouser to the United States Senate.

"Forrest Davis (Post author) sketched a new and dashing political figure (Funkhouser) in the story 'STATESMAN IN A HURRY.'

"The Post asserts the guess that 'the undaunted Mr. Funkhouser is now out to capture the governorship in 1944 and may succeed.'

"Though Funkhouser has not announced his candidacy for the governorship, it is assumed in most quarters that he will run. The number of copies of the magazine which is to be distributed in West Virginia was materially increased for this issue. This is the first time in many years that a West Virginia political situation and personality have achieved national prominence."

NOTICE

A meeting of the Pocahontas County Rod and Gun Club is called for Friday, December 17, 7:30 P. M., at the Royal Drug Store for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. A good attendance is desired.

Crackers and Chowder Harmonize!
(See Recipes Below)

Soup Satisfies!

There's not one dish in any cooking repertory that can even come close to fill the place of soup. It can be the appetite-tickler to start the meal, or a light, no-spiced concoction to do for lunch-eon, or a steaming hot, sturdy soup to be the meal, the vegetable and the main dish for a cool night's dinner while the wind blows hard outside.

If any crisis arises as far as your own point-ration allowance, then start exploring the fascinating possibilities of a few meaty bones, celery leaves, pungent onion, and a sprig of parsley, chives, marjoram or chervil. Fat, cozy browns of soup will ward off any hunger pangs as they have always done when food supplies are sleader.

There's no doubt that the furnace will again become a part of your kitchen equipment—at least for the duration. You can make delicious soup out of almost anything—and soup can make the meal if you serve it with plenty of unrationed crackers. There are literally all kinds of these to go with any soup you care to name.

Here's a fish chowder that is rich, savory and thoroughly satisfying. Serve it with common or pilot crackers to make the meal. Or, if you prefer, oyster crackers, the round tasty type, saltines or plain soda crackers—any one will be a natural accompaniment:

Fish Chowder.
(Serves 8)

3 pounds haddock or cod
3 potatoes, sliced
3 medium-sized onions, chopped
3 slices salt pork, diced
6 crackers
1 quart milk
1 pint cream
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Salt and pepper

Cook fish in boiling water until done. Remove fish from water and cook potatoes and onions in fish water until soft. Fry salt pork until crisp. Skin and bone fish and add with pork scraps to chowder. Soak split crackers in milk. Heat milk and cream with crackers, and add to chowder. Add butter or margarine, salt and pepper.

Here is another savory soup which will make a perfect main dish for the meal:

Lynn Says:

The Score Card: Now that butter has gone up in point value, you may have to learn to use other spreads such as margarine. Be sure to select a margarine that gives you a definite guarantee of the amount of vitamin with which it is enriched. To color the margarine, let it soften until smooth and creamy; add vegetable coloring and blend together. Let harden before using, if you want to cut it in squares.

Butter can also be stretched with a number of commercial or other stretchers. Select a stretcher that gives good consistency and does not change flavor.

If you're doing without a great deal of butter, here's how: Use margarines or shortenings for all cooking or baking. Save bacon and other drippings to use for frying. Occasionally use jams, jelly and honey for spreads. Sandwiches can be spiced with mayonnaise if the butter supply is low.

Lynn Chambers' Point-Saving Menu

"Fish Chowder With Crackers
Tossed Green Salad
Biscuits Jelly
Beverage
Lemon Pie
Cookies Given

Scotch Broth.
(Serves 10)

½ cup dried barley
½ cup green, split peas
½ pound lamb shank
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts water
3 leeks or onions, chopped
3 carrots, diced small
1 turnip, diced small
1 pound cabbage, sliced
4 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 carrot, grated

Soak peas and barley overnight, in separate bowls. Place lamb bone in a large saucepan; add salt and cold water to cover. Bring to a boil and simmer 1 hour. Add leeks, carrots, turnip, cabbage, peas and barley. Simmer 1 hour. Add parsley and grated carrot. Stir well and serve.

Potatoes and onion are go-togethers in soup. Carry the harmony even further and serve with this soup, the round, toasty type of cracker:

Cream of Potato and Onion Soup.
(Serves 6)

4 onions
4 medium-sized potatoes
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups scalded milk
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Salt and pepper

Boil onions and potatoes together until tender. Drain, saving 1 cup of the water. Rub the vegetables through a coarse strainer. Melt the butter or margarine, add flour and blend until smooth. Add milk and potato-onion water, and combine with onion and potato pulp. Season with chopped parsley, salt and pepper. Beat with egg beater and serve at once.

Did you know that a cheese type of cracker is best with the tomato soups? It brings out the flavor of the soup better than any other kind of accompaniment:

Tomato Bisque.
(Serves 6)

4 cups milk
½ cup stale bread crumbs
2½ cups canned tomatoes
1 small onion
6 cloves
½ teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons sugar
4 tablespoons butter or margarine

Pour the scalded milk over the bread crumbs and rub through a sieve. Stew the tomatoes with the seasonings and strain. To the tomatoes, in which the soda has been dissolved, add the reheated milk mixture, and last the sugar and butter mixture. Serve at once.

A delicious bean soup has been many a cook's road to fame. It's not difficult at all if you make it this way:

Black Bean Soup.
(Serves 12)

1 pound black beans
3 cloves
3 sprigs thyme or 1 bayleaf
3 quarts water
1 onion, chopped
1 ham bone or ½ pound salt pork or 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
Dash of salt

Soak beans overnight in cold water. Rinse and drain beans well. Place in kettle with rest of ingredients. Bring to a boil and let simmer 4 hours. Add more water from time to time, if necessary. Put through sieve and serve with slice of lemon and sliced hard-cooked egg.

What are your problems in rationing? Write to Lynn Chambers in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your reply, if a quick answer is desired. Lynn Chambers, 211 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois.

In Memoriam

Boyer, W. Va.,
Dec. 2, 1943.

In memory of my father, Mr. Frank Snyder, who passed away in 1943:

I Have No Mother and Father Now.

I hear the soft wind sighing
Through every bush and tree,
Where now their forms are lying
Away fro love, and me
Tears from mine eyes are starting
And sorrow shades my brow;
Oh! weary was our party—
I have no mother and father now.

I see the pale moon shining
Upon the white headstones—
The rose bush round them twining
Is here like me alone
And just like me is weeping
Those dew drops from the bough
A long time have they been sleeping,
I have no mother and father now.

My heart is every lonely
My life is drear and sad,
'Twas their dear presence only
That made my spirit glad;
From morning until even,
Care rests upon my brow.
They are gone from me to heaven,
I have no mother and father now.

DEER HIDES REQUESTED

Hunters who have deer hides to be turned in for war uses are asked to leave them at A. B. McComb's store at Huntersville, or contact Warden Bob McComb, who will arrange to pick them up.

COUNTY SOLDIERS WOUNDED

The war department this week announced a list of 360 West Virginia service men who have been wounded in action. Three were from Pocahontas County, as follows:

Corpl. Roy W. Hall, son of Mrs. J. Hall, of Hillsboro.

Pfc Arthur P. Swisher, son of Mrs. Myrtle Swisher, of Cass.

Corpl. George D. Thomas, son of George C. Thompson of Mill Point.

SAVE YOUR HOLDERS.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—If West Virginia hunters want to be sure of having metal holders next year for their hunting licenses they had better save the ones they now have, Conservation Director Jack Shipman has warned. The commission was able to obtain only part of the number it needed this year, he said, and he believed the situation might be worse next year. If hunters will preserve their present holders for re-use, though, the scarcity problem may be met, he stated. The metal used in the holders is an essential in war industries.

Preston Educator Will Seek Post of State School Head

Shaffer was encouragen by the fact that his candidacy will be supported by educators. Representative school people from approimately half of the counties of the state held a caucus during the convention of the State Education Association in Charleston and after considering possible Republican candidates for state superintendent of schools, none of whom were present, unanimously agreed to support and work for the election of Kenneth W. Shaffer.

For his educational training Mr. Shaffer attended a one-room school—six years, graded elementary school, Victory High School, Salem College, A. B. degree—West Virginia University, M. A. degree in educational administration — Columbia University and graduate work—Harvard University.

Deer Season Ends

The deer season ended in Pocahontas County last Saturday with the kill numbering several hundred. Dozens of hunters from various sections and it was reported by Conservation Commission representatives who patrolled the area that the number of illegal killings was comparatively small.

Four men from Sissonville were arrested by Wardens Bill Reynolds and Wayne Stalnaker for hunting in closed territory.

Out at Seneca State Forest it was necessary to close the season the first day, when 48 deer were killed, making the quota allowed for that section.

xxx

HUNTING VIOLATIONS

Four men who were found deer hunting in closed territory near Mill Dell, were arrested by Warden W. F. Rexrode. They were taken in Durbin and fines were assessed.

In the Rimel section, Warden Ira Carper arrested a man for hunting deer with buckshot.

A case is pending against five men who participated in the killing or possession of a spiked buck with no branched horns, in the Dry Branch area. Warrants have been issued for the hunters.

Who Owns the Railroads?

BIG BANKERS? With white ribbing on their vests? And heavy loops of gold watch chain?

Guess again! Think of a small brick house in a whole row of brick houses in a large city in Ohio or Illinois. Think of a large stone mansion on a Pennsylvania hillside, a place for old folks to go to when they're left alone in the world. Think of hospitals in Indiana and Wisconsin, colleges in Virginia and Washington, insurance companies in New York, and Massachusetts and Minnesota.

Think of a cross-section of American life. Now you're getting warm. If ever there was a public property—in the sense of widespread ownership—it's our American railroads.

Here are the facts about a typical railroad—the Chesapeake and Ohio.

275,083 shares of its stock are owned by colleges, hospitals, churches, charitable institutions and insurance companies.

40,496 of its common stockholders own 50 shares or less. These represent approximately 70 per cent of the total common stockholders.

These people live in every state of the union and in its territories. They come from nearly every walk of life, and include employees of the road, teachers, lawyers, business men, stenographers, farmers, men in the Army and Navy—people who live "just around the corner" from you.

In some countries the people have not been enterprising enough to build and maintain their own railroads. And the government has had to do it for them. With us the citizen and not the state has been the force behind our railroads. We have preferred the progress that comes from free competition to the stagnation that accompanies political patronage and bureaucracy.

This system has worked. In the face of the greatest emergency ever to strike this country, the railroads of America have proved more able than ever before to meet the task imposed on them. With consideration for their welfare in the future, they will meet post-war tasks in the same way.

In short, the railroads could be in no better hands than in the hands of the American people. For they, in the long run, must be served.

IT Impresses ME

TO WILLYUM,
Exponent Columist,
Angel of the Weeklies,
(and no foolin').

DEAR WILLYUM:

In much of our association you have been like a big brother to me—you know, exemplifyng a sort of "don't do as I do, but as I pay" attitude—and in many of the things you have told me I have discovered the essence of wisdom. Being the husband of a red head yourself, you have obtained a keen insight into many of the experiences which have fallen to my lot. And being something of a wizard linotype keys, you are able to have an intimate knowledge of my present predicament. I enjoyed your recent letter, but I must admit that I found it, in some ways, contradictory. For instance, you told me to "have a good time and convert the Army while you are away." If I should undertake to do the former, Alma would probably try to bring me home; and if I should give my earnest endeavor to the latter effort—it would certainly put a curb on some of the soldiers' present intentions to have a good time. As far as leaving Alma to run the paper is concerned, I have no apprehension on that score—you know her well enough to realize that she has been telling me how to run it for two years now, so she should be able to fall into that role pretty easily. It is true that I don't know just where her fling for political participation may lead her, but having received her early training in this phase under Mrs. Charles Smiley and Miss Cora Atchison, and conducting such dignitaries as Judge Summers Shrap and Hon. H. Ray Waugh around over Harrison County, she should have learned some political tact by now—at least enough to know that politics is one sphere of human life where it is absolutely certain that everyone is not going to agree with you. The only consolation here is that I am leaving her at a time when it bids fair that she will get more agreement on her side of the political fence than she has been used to for many a moon. But there are some who will not agree with that, either, so I guess I better not get involved in it too deeply. We have made an agreement that if either one of us does not like the position into which the war has thrown us, respectively: me, a God-fearing, peace-loving man into the role of a fighter, and Alma, singer at "West Virginia Day" at the Chicago World's Fair, entertainer at state Kiwanis conventions, star of Elks' show, and leader of impromptu singfests at veterans' meetings, into a newspaper operation, that we will not write our woes to each other. Confidentially, that agreement is going to be quite a break for me; though I'll very likely be able to guess enough to do the whole I receive my copy of the Journal each week. As to my entry into the service, Willyum, you will be able to know and enjoy the "opportunities" that it brings within reach of a man who has been married for eight or ten years. It may bring home the fact that we are fighting this war for liberty, if you see what I mean. After the mental picture of myself in uniform that I have entertained it certainly would be a disappointment now if I should not be accepted. Besides all the other reasons, it will give me a chance to get my front teeth fixed. I've been putting it off for many years, but I'm certainly going to be ready for the draft. Willyum, listen, for everything that please do not mention the fact within my wife's hearing that I am in the war at their greatest expense. You know, of course, that I am willing to persuade them to put up in this war, and how will surprise you. I have recently received a telegram and have read Thomas Hardy's "The Dynasts Impact," but to me to get transferred enough so that all the gang won't wheels, at the place I was through his barracks.

Yr. Brother,

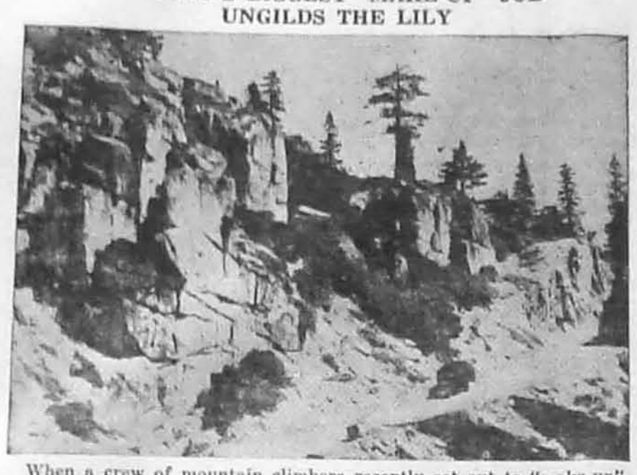
WORLD'S BIGGEST "MAKE-UP" JOB UNGILDS THE LILY



When a crew of mountain climbers recently set out to "make-up" 50 square miles of mountains for a movie, they were told their job was to "ungild the lily." The picture was to be taken in technicolor, which emphasizes yellow. The make-up job, therefore, was to subdue the yellow in the cliffs, trees, bushes, flowers and shrubs. Instead of the usual make-up kit of cosmetics, these photographic experts shouldered spray guns filled with Texolite, a paint that is mixed with water, that dries quickly and which can be tinted to any hue desired. They went hiking about, peering through a little spectrum wheel, hunting for whatever looks yellow. Then they would spray it with the proper shade of Texolite.

This gigantic "make-up" job was done in the High Sierras, which were chosen as the location of the picture because it looks so much like the Guadarrama Range in Spain, where the story of Paramount's new picture, "For Whom The Bell Tolls" is centered.

Funkhouser Announces For Governor

THE FOLLOWING TELEGRAM WAS RECEIVED TUESDAY

A. E. FERGUSON, The Journal,
Marlinton, West Virginia.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 19.—At a regular meeting of the Jefferson County Republican Club and in answer to the club chairman, R. J. Funkhouser announced that he would be a candidate for the governorship of West Virginia in 1944. In a spirited speech frequently interrupted by applause of the largest gathering of Jefferson County Republicans witnessed in years, Funkhouser said: "Mr. Link and my friends in Jefferson County, I will answer your question, and in so doing, I serve notice on four men in this state that the Republican party does not owe me anything, but the Republican party does owe our nation and state good clean government, and in the name of the Republican party, I now announce my candidacy for Governor, and solemnly pledge our party to fully discharge its obligations to all the people of our great state. This party is not obligated to any individual as a party. We are neither requested or expected to put some person in office because a small clique wants to maintain itself in power. I say, the Republican party does not owe them or me anything....But we are all very much indebted to our party and all of us would do well if we were more interested in our party and states and less interested in our own personal aggrandizement.

"I hope to see this great state firmly and permanently registered to a government directed wholly by the people, not a gang of professional politicians operating behind the scene. Even before I enter the gate that leads to the governorship, wolves in sheep's clothing prove to be real wolves. Four men—three Republicans and one New Dealer—have been threatening me with destructioin. If I even dare to be a candidate they will blackmail me, they will hang me, they will tear me apart limb from limb, they will utterly destroy me, or so they say. Well, I am going to accept their challenge and not only enter the gate to be confirmed by these wolves, but I am going all the way unafraid, because the people of West Virginia will be marching with me."

Funkhouser listed 13 points on which his platform will be built. ". . . And I close with a note of a Republican sweep in '44."

Dennis D. Link, Republican county chairman, then rose to urge the Republicans throughout the state to rally behind Funkhouser as the party's unanimous choice, thereby presenting the strongest of united fronts to the New Deal Democrats in the final election.

(Signed) DENNIS D. LINK,
Republican Chairman, Jefferson County.

Mower Lumber Company Honors New Manager

More than seven hundred people attended the Christmas party last Tuesday night at the Mower Lumber Company Store in Cass.

The party was to honor H. H. Thompson, the new manager of the store. Mr. Thompson came to Cass from Clarksburg, after sixteen successful years with a large concern there.

Show windows of the store were decorated in Christmas colors with candles burning, and many things from their fine Christmas stock on display. Also in the window was an honor roll in a picture frame, made from the lumber of the Mower Mill, and the splendid pen work of the names had been done by Howard Fulks.

The interior of the store was decorated in keeping with the yuletide season.

At 8 P. M. the program started with Mrs. F. Edwin Mower welcoming the visitors and introducing Mr. Thompson, who acted as master of ceremonies.

The first entertainer was Miss Lena Anderson, who sang "Remember Pearl Harbor," accompanied by Miss Mary Croner. The group joined in singing the "Star-Spangled Banner."

In the amateur contest which followed many persons took part. Catherine Evans and Charlotte Ann Fulks were the prize winners, singing "Pistol Packin' Mama."

Grover Wright was awarded the $100 bond, Beatrice Stewart, colored, the $50 bond, and Donald Meeks the $25 bond. The judges for the contests were Sherff Ward Hudson and Editor Aubrey Ferguson.

Folks lingered long after the party was concluded, shawing hands and greeting friends from various sections of the county.

CHRIST THE FULFILLMENT OF THE LAW

LESSON TEXT—Hebrews 1:1-3; Romans 10:4-10.

GOLDEN TEXT—God . . . hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son.—Hebrews 1:1,2.

The center of all Christian thinking is the fact that God has revealed Himself to man. This revelation is found in the Bible, for it is the Word of God. That is why the commandments which we have studied in recent weeks speak to us with such authority. They are not the expression of human opinion of how we should live. They are God's command which we are to obey.

The great and final revelation of God and His love was not the written Word—the Bible—but the Living Word—His Son. The coming of Christ is our lesson for next week, on Christmas Sunday. But this week we want to learn a little more of what His coming into the world meant. He was—

I. God's Last Word (Heb. 1:1-3).

Through the ages God had been speaking through the prophets, constantly revealing Himself as a God of power, justice, holiness, truth and mercy.

In different ways and at various times (v. 1) He spoke through them, but always there was a pointing forward to the One who should come. Abraham was called out to found the nation (Gen. 12), and Jacob the family or tribe (Gen. 49), in which He should come. He was to be a prophet like Moses (Deut. 18) and of the kingly house of David (II Sam. 7). All the offerings of Leviticus spoke of His priestly service. Isaiah saw Him as both the reigning and the suffering Messiah (Isa. 53).

All this was incomplete until He came; and when He did, He revealed all the glory of God. He made the perfect and final sacrifice for sin, and sat down (His work was finished) at God's right hand (the place of power).

Let us be clear about this: in Christ God's revelation is perfect and complete. We need look for nothing more. The claims of those who appear with a "new light" or some mysterious hidden power are so obviously untrue that we ought not to be at all interested.

But not only is Christ God's final Word, He is—

II. God's Best Word (Heb. 1:4-9).

The prophets and their messages thrill our souls and move us to more earnest living. But the Christ is our very life as well as our Redeemer.

The angels are God's messengers—mighty and magnificent beings, superior in their way to man (Ps. 8:5). The early church made too much of angels (as do some groups today), but Protestantism of our day has made too little of them. They are great and powerful beings who minister on our behalf and who are honored in the loyal service they do for God.

But when they stand beside the Son of God, it becomes evident that He holds a place of incomparable glory and majesty. He is the highest revelation of God, the best Word that God could have spoken to needy and sinful humanity.

We do well to think of who Christ is and what He has done. Just in this passage from Hebrews we find that He is the express image of all of God's glory; He is the upholder of all creation; He has the place of honor and power at God's right hand; He is the only begotten of the Father; His throne has been established forever, and so on.

How well nigh unbelievable that this glorious One is also our Saviour. This is stated in verse 3, but is developed in our next point.

III. God's Saving Word (Rom. 10:4-10).

If sinful man were only permitted to look on His glory it would be a great privilege, but it would not help him in his desire for holiness and eternal joy. There was a "great gulf fixed" between sinful man and a holy God until the Son of glory became the God-man, when the eternal Word became "flesh and dwelt among us" (Luke 2:14).

Christ as our Saviour is the "end of the law" to the believer (v. 4), not in the sense that He terminates the law by setting it aside, but by completing or fulfilling all of its requirements.

Just so the Christian is set free from the law, not in order that he may disobey it, but that he may keep it in the power and grace which Christ gives him. The Ten Commandments are the law of life for the Christian because he loves the Lord Jesus Christ and wants to obey Him. We do the things which the Decalogue require not to be saved thereby, but because we thereby honor the name of our Saviour.

The unbeliever, struggling under the burden of sin, says, "How can I come to know Him?" and we find the answer in verses 8-10. It is "by faith."

WHO WILL MARK YOUR BALLOT IN 1944?

The important charges and counter-charges; the expressed politcal aims and ambitions; the portrayals of avowed character and abilities, and the slurs against them which are fast breaking upon the scene in this state and throughout the nation are portentious of the vast responsibility which faces the individual voters of West Virginia, and in fact all America, in 1944.

The fact that these varied phases of political intrigue are being brought to light almost a year ahead of the time for their final decisions when the men and women voters trek to the polls may be an omen or it may be a real break for the people who must make those decisions.

It is perhaps unusual that so far ahead of a primary or general election so many men are either thrusting themselves, or are being thrusted, into the political spotlight. It is a symptom of the keen edge of political nerves when leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties, especially in this state, are sparring with each other and with those in their own ranks, or are busy organizing socalled "harmony" groups to advance political campaigns.

Nearly everyone expects two or more factions of the Democratic party in West Virginia to contend for control of major positions; and current public and private exchanges of letters between prominent members of the Republican party would give evidence that the same situation exists within its ranks.

Some of these political starts may, of course, wear themselves out and cease to exist of their own accord. But in the main the situation presents a real challenge to the voting public.

It prompts this editor to ask the question: "WHO WILL MARK YOUR BALLOT IN 1944?"

Shall it be the proponents of a New Deal, a Traditional Democratic Party, a political Colossus, a Republican Old Guard? Or shall it be Joe Smith, American? Of course it will be YOU who makes the mark, but whose hand shall guide the pencil?

Now, as never before, the trend of American life and the demands which are being made upon our citizens is such as to call forth from every common voter a new interest in the political future of the nation. Now, as never before, every man and woman should dedicate himself or herself to a study of men and issues in an effort to develop a competency for marking a ballot. Now, as never before, there is a demand for common people, who hold within their hands the fate of a great country, to separate themselves from party labels, and to think seriously upon the matter of what they desire that fate to be.

This editor is registered as a Republican, and for that he makes no apology; nor would he expect an apology from his neighbor who is registered as a Democrat. But he has yet to see the election where all of the men who filled the pattern of his party and belief were on one ticket. He has felt that his constitutional right to pick from either ticket, and to support the men whom he most trusted to be right and to do the right, was one of the greatest satisfying compliments to his intelligence and judgment.

There is no doubt that there is an undercurrent in American life today which gives evidence of the people's desire for a change upon a major scale. Such a fact is dangerous knowledge because it invites unworthy as well as worthy aspirants to become political candidates. The only safeguard which assures the selection of the worthy and the elimination of the unworthy is an intelligent, studious and interested voting public.

So as for as advocate of the election or the defeat of the politicians, but only the voters of the state, despite time to study the men, their views and records—which might turn in favor of an honorable office seeker or not, the best-intended servants and false flappers.

Let us extend ourselves in the interest of the American way of life which has made us a great nation and let us resolve before that we far as we are individually capable, we shall make up our own minds, decide our own course of action, and vote for those men whom our own judgment and tuition prompts us to believe are most sincere and able to preserve for us politically what we are striving to save in a military sense.

If we do not achieve this, then we have lost our battle—even if we win a war.

LIFE'S Little TROUBLES

-CAN'T SLEEP-

No need to lie in bed—toss—worry and fret because CONSTIPATION or GAS PRESSURE won't let you sleep. Be sensible—get up—take a dash of as directed, to relieve the pressure of large intestines on nerves and organs of the digestive tract. Adlerika assists old food wastes and gas through a comfortable bowel movement so that bowels return to normal size and the discomforts of pressure stop. Before you know it, you are asleep. Morning finds you feeling clean—refreshed and ready for a good day's work or fun.

ADLER-I-KA

"I've Figured Out the Lighting"

This couple is eagerly looking forward to the day when these plans can be put into use. They know that their home of the future will be completely modern when it is completely electric. You too can plan, considering how new post-war electric appliances can best serve you in housekeeping and living. Your business-operated electric company is planning too . . . we want to say, like Mrs. Housewife, "I've figured out the lighting!"
